Flood Damage Estimate Is $100 Million

Death Toll at 208 in South Dakota

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) — The death toll in the nation's worst flood disaster in 44 years has reached 208, and officials fear many more bodies will be found putside Rapid City in the streams that filter from the nearby Black Hills.

Civil Defense officials estimated the missing at 500, and said today that it was impossible to estimate the number of injured.

At least 3,000 persons were left homeless, and damage was estimated at more than $100 million.

Maj. Gen. Duane L. "Duke" Corning, commanding 2,500 National Guardsmen in Rapid City, said about 1,000 men worked into the night "turning over any debris that might hide a body."

Mayor Donald Barnett imposed a 10 p.m. to dawn curfew on the city of 43,000. He halted night search operations by the more than 3,000 civilian volunteers, and said the rescue teams accomplished as much during daylight hours as they did working around the clock.

The volunteers and guardsmen have been at work since daylight Saturday, hours after a wave crashed through an earthen dam at rain-swollen Canyon Lake on the western edge of Rapid City.

The water smashed through the city, flipping cars, crushing trees and lifting homes off their foundations and slamming them into a heap of splinters blocks away.

Sen. George McGovern and Gov. Richard Kneip visited the devastated area Sunday. McGovern called it "incredible destruction," and said he would ask Congress to provide extraordinary relief for his home state if deemed necessary.

Hundreds of persons were innoculated for typhoid and tetanus at the Rapid City High School and the Pennington County Health Department. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare stockpiled 10,000 doses of the innoculations.

Rapid City has been without water since the floods struck, and officials said it will be late tonight before drinkable water is available through city facilities.

Drinking water was delivered by nearby Ellsworth Air Force Base and passed out in pots, cans and kettles at designated locations.

The water cutoff made plumbing facilities inoperable. The natural gas supply also was cut off but telephone service was restored.

The Office of Emergency Preparedness, Small Business Administration, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Office of Economic Opportunity and federal housing agencies sent disaster teams to Rapid City on Sunday to begin assisting the victims.

The disaster was the worst ever in South Dakota. A winter blizzard in 1888 killed more than 100 persons. The worst flood in U.S. history was in Johnstown, Pa., in 1889 when 2,200 were killed.

In 1938, floods spawned by hurricanes claimed 1,836 lives in southern Florida.

'Doing What the Lord Called Him to Do'

RAPID CITY, S. D. (AP)—Joy Medley and her husband Bill were Salvation Army majors at Rapid City when the flood hit. Now, she is staying busy helping the living victims and he is one of the more than 200 who died when waters swept through the town.

"The last I heard from him was about 8 o'clock Friday night when he yelled, 'Honey, I am going to Story Book Island to see if I can help'," Mrs. Medley said Sunday.

Story Book Island is a park hit by 5-foot-deep flood water.

"He was doing what the Lord called him to do when he died," she said. "He was going to where he was needed. I'm sure many people in the community grieve him. He was needed here."

Mrs. Medley, who said she had slept little and eaten nothing since Friday night, was supervising the Salvation Army clothing and food distribution center Sunday, the same job she held when informed Saturday night of his death. And she said she was sticking with the relief work until the emergency is over, then continue their church and charity work.

Salavation Army Maj. William G. "Bill" Medley, 50, had removed the camper from the family pickup to help assist rescue efforts after a warning was sounded of the impending flood Friday night.

"I know he was going to help someone when the flood waters caught him," his widow said. "He had the keys to the truck in his pocket. They never found the truck."

Bill Medley had been an officer in the Salavation Army 24 years this month.

"I grew up in a Salvation Army family," Mrs. Medley said. "My parents started the Salavation Army church in Columbia City, Ind., and when we were kids Bill started coming to our Sunday school classes. We went together, and when he got out of the Army we were married."

"We were commissioned at the same time" in the Salavation Army, she said. They served in Indiana for 11 years and then at Fergus Falls and Fairmont, Minn., and at Williston, N. D., before moving to Rapid City two years ago.

"Bill was an avid outdoorsman and he knew this area like a book she recalled. "If there were any way to escape that flood, he would have known it."

U. S. Planes Continue Air Strikes

N. Viets Withdraw From An Loc

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese armored columns and truckloads of supplies broke through today to An Loc and all but lifted the siege of the provincial capital 60 miles north of Saigon—the fourth major town to be liberated since the Communist offensive began on March 30.

A few snipers remained in the town and Highway 13 from Saigon was not considered "safe," but most of the North Vietnamese attackers were reported to have withdrawn to Cambodia and the remaining 7th and 9th Communist Divisions were described as "decimated" or so badly cut up they had lost their combat effectiveness.

Many of the North Vietnamese attackers were killed by massive B52 strikes and by fighter-bombers. The emphasis on the air war today was North Vietnam were B52s struck for the fifth consecutive day while fighter-bombers hitting the Hanoi-Haiphong areas played havoc with North Vietnam's war transportation.

The Saigon command in reporting 280 strikes in North Vietnam during the 24 hours ending at 5 p.m. Sunday also reported that F4 Phantoms from the carrier Coral Sea shot down two MIG17s Sunday 25 miles south of Hanoi with missiles and without suffering any losses themselves.

Debate on the $1.7 billion foreign military aid bill begins in Senate. Story on page 22.

U.S. planes using "smart bombs" guided by laser beams and television have knocked out scores of railway bridges leading from China to the Hanoi area. And in doing so they left about 600 heavily laden railcars stranded in the open like sitting ducks.

Many of those have been prime targets and the U.S. Command reported that 600 cars were hit during the last 24 hours. Pilots on one bombing raid against railroad cars 60 miles northeast of Hanoi near the China border caused large secondary explosions with a bright orange fireball 500 yards in diameter—a sure sign that ammunition had exploded.

U.S. 7th Fleet ships also have joined the bombardment of North Vietnam, shelling the coastal road and canal network. The command said the destroyer USS Bausell, while shelling the Than Hoa region 80 miles southwest of Hanoi, was hit by shrapnel on June 10 and slightly damaged. No injuries were reported.

Meanwhile, in Paris, William J. Porter, head of the U. S. delegation to the Vietnam peace talks, returned to his post today after a four-week absence and said the United States would keep trying to find a negotiated settlement of the war.

"We are going to keep trying. That is the essential message I bring back," Porter told newsmen at Orly Airport.

The head of the U.S. delegation, however, gave no indication of any change in the U.S. position on resuming the suspended talks. The United States and South Vietnam broke off the Vietnam conference last month on grounds Hanoi and the Viet Cong were refusing to negotiate.

Kennedy Nomination Possible At Dem Convention...Mills

By United Press International

If Sen. George S. McGovern fails to win a first ballot victory at the Democratic National Convention next month he will be denied the presidential nomination, says Rep. Wilbur D. Mills. The party then may turn to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

Mills, influential chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee and himself a Democratic presidential candidate, made the assessment Sunday. The Arkansas Democrat also said that if the convention were to draft Kennedy, he would consider accepting the vice presidential nomination.

Mills said he did not believe McGovern, the Democratic front-runner, will have enough delegates to win on the first ballot.

Sen. Humphrey begins stretch run. Story on page 22.

"I think he must win on the first ballot," Mills said. "...If a person with as much support as he has at the convention can't muster a few more bandwagon riders and get that 1,509 votes on the first ballot, I just don't see him being nominated, and if he isn't nominated, then the convention will be looking toward someone else...and I would think that most of those there would look with favor on Senator Kennedy, if he would accept the nomination."

Mills made his remarks on NBC's "Meet the Press."

McGovern said in an interview with UPI Sunday that he expects next week's New York primary to put him within 300 delegates of a first ballot nomination. But he said he believed he would have to fight for additional votes one-by-one. He said he did not see "any big blocs coming to us."

McGovern said he would not soften his stands on tax reform, welfare reform and ending the war.

The South Dakota senator gained 30 more delegates at state party conventions over the weekend, giving him close to 1,000 delegates.

His best showing came in Virginia where he won 25 delegates, 16 from the state's 10 congressional districts and nine of the 12 at-large delegates. Virginia also is sending 20 uncommitted delegates to the party convention.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey added three delegates, while Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford won one delegate each.

Humphrey scheduled campaign stops in San Antonio, Tex.

McGovern Stumps in State

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, in quest of the biggest bloc of delegates still to be contested prior to the Democratic presidential convention, arrived in New York today to kick off six days of intensive campaigning.

Three of the city's five boroughs were on McGovern's itinerary, the first stop being a tour of Harlem Hospital in Manhattan, accompanied by Coretta King, widow of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Next Tuesday's primary will elect 248 of the state's 278 delegates to the July convention, and a big victory would bring a first-ballot nomination within reach of the South Dakota senator.

The final week of campaigning here follows McGovern's one-day trip Sunday to South Dakota to view the destruction caused by heavy rains and flooding in Rapid City, S.D.

He called it "a scene of incredible destruction and desolation."

McGovern plans to spend six of the remaining eight days before the June 20 primary in New York State. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, the only other major still-active candidate for the nomination, did not enter the New York contest.

McGovern has delegate slates entered in all but two of the state's 39 congressional districts.

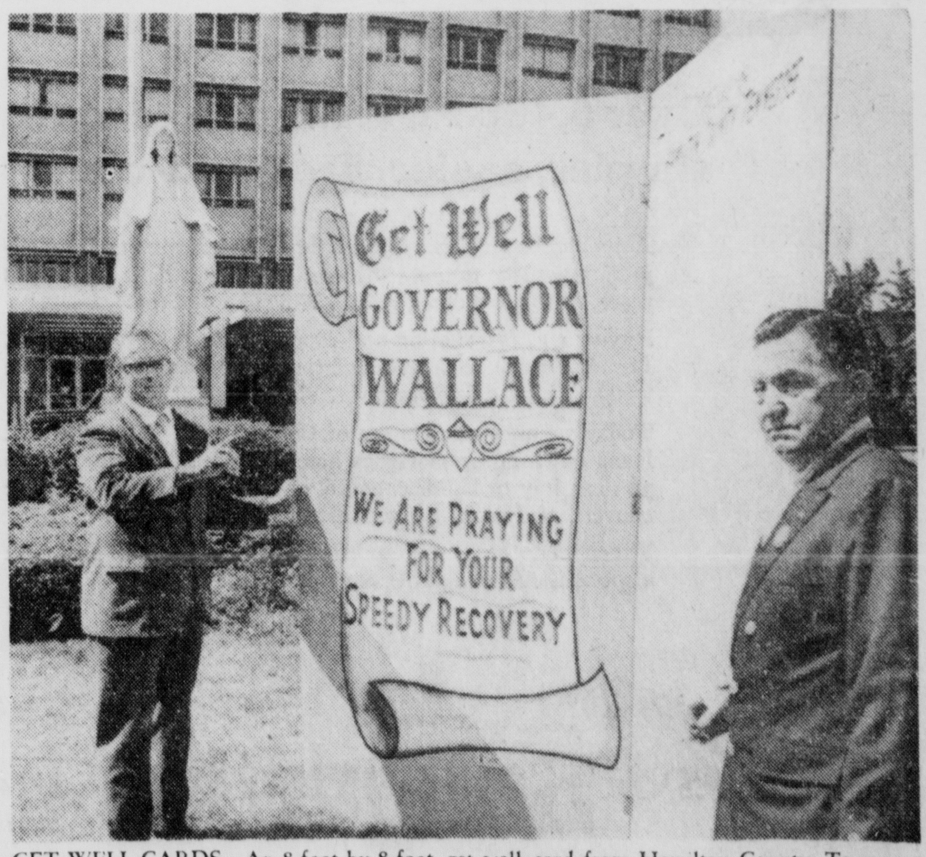

He is generally expected to emerge from the Empire State's contest with over 200 of the 278 delegates at stake and travel to Miami Beach with about 1,300 first-ballot votes. It takes 1,509 to win the nomination.

McGovern's trip to South Dakota followed what was described as the worst disaster in that state's history.

At one point during an automobile tour of the city, McGovern said in response to a question "if I had been president I would have been in Rapid City today. I think that when disaster strikes like this, the president ought to be there."

Rondout Valley Pact in Jeopardy

By JON POWERS

KYSERIKE

The president of the Rondout Valley Teachers Association said today that the planned elimination of three teaching positions in the school districts may jeopardize the tentative contract agreement reached beteween the RVTA and the Rondout Valley Board of Education.

Peter Hengstenberg, president of the RVTA, said ratification of the tentative agreement by the teachers "looks very doubtful."

The tentative agreement was reached two weeks ago. Shortly thereafter, the Board of Education announced that it would have to eliminate three teaching positions in order to afford the terms of the proposed contract.

Hengstenberg said that similar measures were proposed by the board during negotiations, and were termed "unacceptable" by the teachers. Hengstenberg said that there was no mention, however, of the elimination of teaching positions when the tentative agreement was reached.

The teachers' association has asked the Board of Education to return to the negotiating table "to resolve this latest problem." The board is expected to meet in special session tonight at 8 o'clock to ratify the agreement. The meeting is open to the public The teachers have not yet scheduled a meeting for a ratification vote.

According to Hengstenberg, the positions to be eliminated are: the district's only full-time speech therapist, an elementary music instructor and a fifth grade Middle School teacher.

Robert Robertaccio, superintendent of schools, said today that the board's decision to eliminate the three teaching positions is "separate from negotiations." "It is an independent action, and not related at all to negotiations," said Robertaccio.

Robertaccio emphasized that the Board of Educationa "does not eliminate teaching positions arbitrarily. I'm sure we could afford two," he added. He said the decision to cut back the size of the staff was designed so the district could afford the cost of the proposed contract.

Robertaccio termed the tentative accord "a very good agreement," and said it included "adequate raises" for the teachers.

Weekend Laundromat, House Fires

PORT EWEN

Thirty firefighters from the Port Ewen Fire Department battled a blaze Sunday that completely gutted the Port Ewen Laundromat at the Grand Union complex off Broadway.

Another weekend fire destroyed a two-story frame house on Route 32 in Tillson. That blaze is under investigation according to Fire Chief Clifton VanNorstrand.

Chief Clark Mains of Port Ewen said the alarm for the laundromat fire was sounded at 11:35 a.m., and when firemen arrived at the scene they found the interior of the establishment completely involved in fire and the flames were shooting through the roof.

As firefighters attacked the flames with hoselines large plate glass windows on the front of the building blew out, sending a shower of glass over the area but luckily no one was injured. The fire is believed to have erupted in the dryer equipment area.

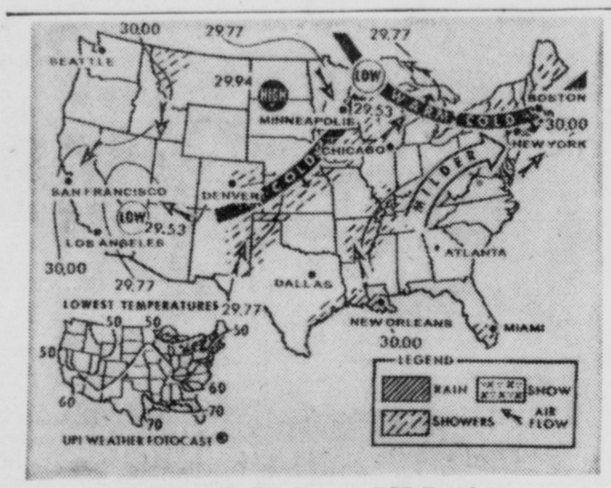

Chief Mains reported that a concrete block fire wall prevented the flames from entering the Grand Union market, where only slight smoke was reported. Fire units were at the secen until after 1:30 p.m.

Esopus Fire Company was on standby alert at the Port Ewen firehous until local units reported back in service.

The two-family house in Tillson that occurred shortly before 2 a.m. Sunday burned to the ground despite efforts of Tillson fireman and units from Bloomington and Rifton, according to Chief VanNorstrand, who reported that two fires had erupted in a room on the first floor and another on the second floor of the residence on Friday.

Occupants of the house, whose names were not immediately available were not in the building when Sunday's fire broke out, officials said. The property is owned by the operators of the Rosendale Food Market, VanNorstrand said.

During the fire Rosendale fire company stood by at Tillson.

Garage Burglary . . . Mini-Bikes Stolen

HURLEY

A burglary at the Clifford M. Miller School garage during which four mini-bikes and five helmets were stolen early Saturday, was under investigation over the weekend by Hurley State Police BCI officers.

Investigators reported the garage was entered by breaking a window and reaching in and unlatching a door. In addition to the mini-bikes and helmets some assorted tools were taken by the thieves.

State Police said one of the bike's was found in the woods near Lake Katrine.

James Billups, director at the Kingston YMCA, who is in charge of a national youth program using mini-bikes conducted by the YMCA said the school garage is used to house 16 mini-bikes used in the project known as NYPUM. The school property is used as the riding site for the project.

The mini-bikes were described as Honda's. Anyone having information regarding the three missing machines is asked to notify State Police at Hurley or the Kingston YMCA.

From Nixon to Emperor Hirohito

Kissinger Delivers Invitation

TOKYO (AP) — President Nixon has invited Emperor Hirohito to visit the United States, presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger announced today as his weekend visit to mend relations between the Nixon administration and Japan drew to a close.

Kissinger told a news conference he delivered the invitation to Prime Minister Eisaku Sato Saturday. Sato said "an appropriate time would be worked out through normal diplomatic channels" for the visit.

No Japanese emperor has ever paid an official visit to the United States. However, Hirohito made a brief stop in Alaska last October when he visited Europe, and President Nixon flew to Anchorage to greet him.

Foreign Minister Takeo Fukuda reported Kissinger admitted that Washington made mistakes in its dealings with Japan last year and promised to spare the Japanese any more "Nixon shocks."

The "Nixon shocks," as the Japanese call them, were the President's failure to consult Sato before reversing his China policy and announcing he would visit Communist China, and the imposition without warning of the 10 per cent surcharge on imports, a measure designed primarily to reduce imports from Japan.

Fukuda said Kissinger, after admitting his government should have worked more closely with the Japanese, promised that Washington would consult Tokyo in advance on future moves toward China and on economic measures affecting Japan.

Kissinger was said to have shown keen interest in a proposal for a bilateral agreement to anticipate future sources of friction in U.S.-Japanese economic relations.

In three days of meetings with opposition as well as government politicians, industrialists and editors, Kissinger called the U.S.-Japan security treaty the keystone to peace in Asia and said the United States would like to see it maintained without revision.

Kissinger told his windup news conference that the United States does not expect Japan to become involved in the defense of the rest of Asia, but it can play an important international economic role.

The Japanese defense role is one for Japan to determine and does not depend on any "prescriptions handed down from Washington," Kissinger said.

"Our basic view is that Japan should be able to take care of its conventional defense, of the conventional defense of its home island."

GREETINGS IN TOKYO — U. S. Presidential advisor Henry Kissinger (L) is greeted by Kakuei Tanaka, Japanese minister of International Trade and Industry, during breakfast at hotel in Tokyo. Gun Battles in Londonderry

BELFAST (UPI)—Three gun battles, one involving a heavy machine gun used against British troops, broke out in Londonderry today. In Belfast, heavy fighting forced the evacuation of women and children from one section of the city.

An army spokesman said gunmen in one of the Londonderry skirmishes fired a heavy machine gun at troops but no one was hit.

Fighting in the two cities broke out after at least three civilians were killed in Belfast and a soldier died in Londonderry Sunday. Pitched battles between Roman Catholics and Protestants that hit three areas of Belfast tapered off toward dawn, although isolated gunshots could still be heard. The Belfast gun battles hit their peak shortly after midnight.

"There is shooting going on all over the bloody shop," a British army spokesman said.

In the latest fighting, the army spokesman said the gunfire became so intense that women and children were evacuated from Belfast's mixed Old Park Road area.

The gunbattles heralded the opening today of a referendum organized by the Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army (IRA) in Catholic neighborhoods.

In the four days of balloting, the residents were being asked to vote on a three-point peace plan announced by the Provisionals.

The plan calls for an end to internment, amnesty for piltical offenders and the British army's return to barracks pending their withdrawal.

Organizers of a Catholic women's peace movement called for rejection of the plan. They said approval would only mean peace on the IRA's terms or a continuation of violence.

Meanwhile, Protestant vigilantes today began tearing down the barricades they set up over the weekend in Belfast and eight other towns to protest Catholic "no go" areas created by the IRA.

Army spokesmen said most of the more than 70 barriers in Belfast began disappearing even as the new fighting developed in the Ardoyne, Clonard and Kashmir street areas of the city.

Israel–Stern Warning on Raids

By United Press International

Israel's deputy premier warned Sunday that Palestinian guerrilla organizations, "for their own good," should drop any plans for terrorist attacks.

Yigal Allon, at a public rally in Jerusalem, said "I hope that following the despicable murder at Lod Airport, the blood-thirsty members of the terror organizations have quenched their thirst for human blood and for their own good will not attempt to repeat such attacks."

He warned "the Arab nations must not engage in any form of warfare (against Israel) because it is in our power to stem even those acts of terror and sabotage mounted from across the cease-fire lines."

Three Japanese radicals apparently working for an Arab guerrilla organization opened fire with guns and grenades at Tel Aviv's Lod International Airport May 30, killing 24 persons and wounding 81. Two of the Japanese also were killed, one was captured.

Israeli officials have placed responsibility for the Lod massacre on the Lebanese government for allowing guerrilla organizations to operate unhampered in the country.

In Beirut, Palestinian sources reported gunmen tried to kill Al Fatah guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat Friday. An Al Fatah leader denied the story, which appeared in the usually reliable An Nahar newspaper.

An Nahar said the try on Arafat's life came during an attempt to overthrow the leadership of Al Fatah, the largest Palestinian guerrilla group.

The Al Fatah spokesman said neither the coup nor attempt on Arafat "had any basis of truth" but admitted there had been an exchange of gunfire in the Tel Zaatar refugee camp east of Beirut as a result of "misbehavior."

He said the culprits were arrested and Al Fatah had to take "certain measures" to prevent "any infiltrators from exploiting the situation." He did not elaborate.

In Cairo, Egyptian War Minister Mohammed Ahmed Sadek at a dinner in honor of visiting Soviet Defense Minister Andrei A. Grechko said Egypt will have to go to war against Israel to get back the territory it lost in the 1967 war.

Vegas Casinos Victimized

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Casino workers may have been terrorized by beatings and murders into cooperating with a ring of gambling cheats that has bilked casinos of at least $300,000 using a clever 'hollow chip stack."

"We are trying to identify the people involved, to find out who organized the ring and how they recruit some of the participants," Phil Hannifin, chairman of the Nevada Gaming Control Board, said Sunday.

Some sources said that the ring had siphoned off as much as $3 million from the gambling tables, and that as many as 150 casino workers may be involved.

Hannifin said that was an exaggeration, that about 25-30 persons were involved. In the past month the ring has victimized at least half a dozen casinos, defrauding them of $300,000 to $400,000, Hannifin said.

"The Murphy case turned us on to it," said Chief Deputy Sheriff Ray Gubser, referring to the death of Robert Lee Murphy, who was shot in a brawl with a casino executive last month. One of the "hollow chip cups" used by the ring was found in Murphy's home after his death.

An unusual number of assault and strong-arm incidents have occurred since then, with many of the victims being casino or hotel workers. Several have mysteriously disappeared, and a rash of killings broke out the week after Murphy was slain.

Gubser said crimes of violence were being investigated for possible links to the cheating ring which could only operate with the help of casino workers on the gambling floors. Authorities said some of the violence may have been the work of the cheating ring, and some was not, but would not give details.

A hotel source speculated that casino workers could have been forced to cooperate with the ring by means of threats of violence, and through pressure from shylock loan operators if they needed money.

The key to the operation is the "cup," a hollow aluminum tube, fashioned to look like a stack of three chips, with the aid of a real $5 chip glued on top. Because it is hollow, two real chips can be hidden inside.

A casino dealer, slipping the $100 chips into into the cup, can make what casino security personnel and observers believe is a $15 payoff—while actually siphoning off $200.

"With the cooperation of the pit boss (who oversees the gambling floor for casino owners) they could steal a tremendous amount," said one gambling authority. The ring has concentrated on crap games, and may also have extended the operation to blackjack, sources said.

Free Glasses with a minimum 8 gallon fill-up.

The only thing to do with the broken glass on the left is to throw it away and replace it with the beautiful glass on the right. And participating ARCO dealers have seen to it that this is a very simple operation.

Just drive to any one of their participating service stations. Buy at least eight gallons of their good gasoline. And you'll be presented with a handsome spicy brown flair glass absolutely free.

Of course, the fact remains, a free glass can shatter just as well. But you won't go broke if it breaks.

Orders New Board Election; 18-Year-Old Was Ruled Out

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — A State Supreme Court justice has ruled that the Schenectady school board must conduct a new board election and restore the name of an 18-year-old high school girl to the ballot.

In an 11-page decision, Justice Guy A. Graves of Schenectady ruled this weekend that the board had acted illegally in locking the voting booth levers next to the name of Susan Spencer, a Linton High School senior running for a board post in the original election May 2.

The board's action came after State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz issued an opinion that the state's Public Officers Law did not permit people between the ages of 18 and 21 to hold elected office.

But Graves disagreed with Lefkowitz's finding.

"So long as it is the law of the land that 18-year-olds have the right to vote," Graves wrote, "it is only reasonable to state that this right is of little use or value without the concurrent right to hold office where there is no compelling state interest that would preclude one from office on account of age."

In nearby Watervliet, a 19-year-old college freshman, Edward Reinfurt, won election to the board of education May 2, but the board refused to seat him.

Supreme Court Justice John H. Pennock of Albany has issued an order for the Watervliet board to show cause why Reinfurt should not be seated. That order is returnable Thursday.

Schenectady Board of Education President Richard della Ratta said that the board would meet later today to consider Graves' ruling and to decide whether to appeal it.

Tax Reform is a term heard very often this election year. Enich Rinner, a noted economist employed by Loeb, Rhoades, has recently prepared a comprehensive essay on "Tax Reform" which should be of interest to investors. To receive your copy contact us by either mail or telephone.

Samuels Thinking

CANANDAIGUA, N.Y. (AP) — It's a pretty safe bet that Howard Samuels, New York City off-track betting chief, will in the future run in races hardly related to his present occupation.

Samuels told newsmen here Saturday that he doesn't "plan to spend all my life as a chief bookie," and that he'll probably make a bid for the governor's job again in 1974.

"I don't think there's any question about it," the former Canandaigua industrialist said when queried about his gubernatorial plans.

"I really want to stay in a role of making a more business-like approach to American governmental institutions, and you have to do that from a position of power," he said.

Samuels has lost out in two tries for the position—in 1962 and again in 1970, when he was defeated by Arthur Goldberg in a primary race for the nomination.

Samuels was in Canandaigua to open a McGovern-for-President campaign headquarters in this Central New York city.

New State Law On Mortgages

KINGSTON

Howard C. St. John, president of Ulster Savings Bank, announced today that a New York State law signed by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller last week, has made it possible for the bank to offer mortgages up to 95 per cent of cost, with a term of up to 40 years.

St. John stated that, "this bill should certainly stimulate the mortgage market and bring home ownership within the reach of a great many people who could not previously have afforded to purchase a house."

He also announced that a new state law had increased the limit on home improvement loans from $5,000 to $10,000 with the term extended to 10 years. "Again," St. John said, "This bill should also prove beneficial to the construction industry and to the homeowner."

Vandals Busy Saturday Night

KINGSTON

Vandals were busy in this city Saturday night and caused damage to at least three parked vehicles, trees and street parking signs.

Police received a complaint from a resident at 44 Sharon Drive that someone poured beige paint on two cars parked in front of the house at that address.

Ernest Arnold notified police at 7:30 a.m. Sunday that he was visiting at a residence on Lafayette Avenue, and someone dumped a gallon of white paint on his 1971 car parked in front of the house.

A resident at 207 West Chestnut Street complained that a tree planted in front of that address had been broken in two and thrown on the lawn. A resident of Mary's Avenue reported a large limb had been ripped off a shade tree and thrown on the grass.

Police also received complaints that a large mail box had been overturned in front of Benedictine Hospital on Mary's Avenue, and a no parking sign and post had been pulled from the ground and thrown on the lawn in front of the Sophie Finn School. The post of a "one-way" sign off Mary's Avenue at the School entrance had been twisted and turned in the opposite direction.

Detectives are investigating the complaints.

OUR ENERGY CRISIS

PART 2

Last week we described the nation's energy crisis and the need to conserve all forms of energy. You may be wondering why our country—which has always had plenty of fuel and energy—is now faced with a shortage.

Natural Gas Shortage

Let's begin with natural gas. For more than a decade the federal government has held down the price of gas paid to producers. With prices held at artificially low levels and exploration and production costs soaring, gas producers lost their incentive to search for new gas supplies. The result: the discovery of gas has fallen way behind consumption, and reserves are being whittled away. The government is now changing its pricing policy, but hundreds of millions of dollars and years of exploration and development will be required before the domestic supply of gas can be substantially increased.

Oil Shortage

The situation with oil is unfavorable too. Our country is becoming more and more dependent upon foreign countries for oil. As oil imports have increased, domestic oil producers have cut back their expansion programs. The result: a growing shortage of domestic oil and increasing dependence upon foreign suppliers. At the present rate of use, it is estimated that half of all the oil used in the United States in the early 1980's will be imported.

Coal Shortage

Coal, which was the energy workhorse in this country for years, has been losing its standing in the total energy picture. Coal is not a "clean" fuel and air pollution control laws tend to discourage its use. Although it is the nation's largest energy resource in terms of reserves, it will be years before new technology makes it possible for clean synthetic fuels to be produced from coal.

As you can see, our domestic fuels are being consumed faster than they are being discovered and made usable. This is why Central Hudson is asking its customers to conserve all forms of energy, including electricity which is produced from oil, gas, coal and nuclear fuels.

Remember, conservation does not mean to stop using energy, but to use it wisely. Conservation won't solve all of our energy problems, but it will be helpful. We'd better start right now.

Five-Week Seminar Underway At Northern Dutchess Hospital

RHINEBECK — A five-week seminar on pastoral care for the pateint and his family has begun at Northern Dutchess Hospital.

The seminar is sponsored jointly by the Rhinebeck Clergy Association and the Dutchess County Mental Health Society and is being funded by the New York State and National Associations for Mental Health.

CLERGYMENS' SEMINAR AT NORTHERN DUTCHESS HOSPITAL

Barbara Steeves is acting as coordinator for the groups. The Rev. Henry Maertens of the Third Lutheran Church, Rhinebeck is active in bringing the weekly seminars to the hospital. The seminars are directed toward all clergymen who use Northern Dutchess Hospital, aimed at helping them to deal with patient and his spiritual needs.

Members of the hospital staff attending are Mrs. Marjorie Rhinard, social services director, and Mrs. Nadine Jicha, director of nursing.

Discussion leader for the group is the Rev. George Kandle, Protestant chaplain at Ossining Correctional Facility and Director of the Northern Westchester Counseling Center.

He is a member of the faculty of the Grasslands Pastoral Workshops and a Fellow in the American Association of Pastoral Counselors.

The seminars meet each Thursday morning and deal with: an overview of hospital counseling; the pastor's role in the therapeutic team; life crises; death and guilt; terminal illness, loss of limbs; and worship and the sacraments.

America's Advantage

The debate over the strategic arms limitation treaty is necessary to clear the air for those who think President Nixon gave too much to the Soviet Union in signing it in Moscow.

On the face of it, it appears that the President did give the Soviets an edge—1,408 ballistic missiles to 1,000 and 62 missile-launching submarines to 44, and 950 submarine-launched ballistic missiles to 710, all written into the five-year agreement freezing strategic offensive missiles. Nonetheless, Defense Secretary Melvin Laird is right in asking for more money to develop sophisticated weapons so as to have a bargaining point with the Russians five years hence.

Senator Henry M. Jackson raised the question, how does the President justify his statement that American strategic forces are more than enough for our defense and our defense commitments to our allies? The answer seems to be in the unpublished numbers of American warheads which are ours in the MIRV missiles—the multiple independently targeted re-entry vehicles, in which we have a 3 to 1 edge.

It is this 3 to 1 edge in warheads that gives credence to the President's assurance that no power on earth exceeds ours. It offsets whatever advantage the Soviets found in the treaty. The ceilings are put on the missiles and submarines, not on the warheads. Both sides have many times the needed warheads to destroy the other.

What was needed was a beginning of understanding of this fact and confidence that neither would use its awesome power because it knows the consequences. The treaty is an insurance policy for the people of both nations. It should be confirmed as soon as possible.

Young Voters Barred

The Supreme Court is making the time after registration the determining factor when it passes on primary voting laws in the states these days. Its latest decision upholds a lower court decision barring 80 per cent of the young New York voters from voting in the state primary election June 2. Between 500,000 and 750,000 are barred.

The New York State election law challenged was designed to prevent members of one political party from crossing over to raid another party's primary by voting for a particular candidate. Under the statute a person cannot vote in a primary election unless he was an enrolled member of that party during the last general election. Thus none of the voters can participate in the June 20 primary unless he on she had registered before October 2, 1971.

The same question had come up earlier in the week in New Jersey. There, a three-man federal court had found unconstitutional a law that barred switching and cross-voting by persons doing so within three years after registration. That length of time was called unreasonable and excessive. The Supreme Court's decision, in effect, has defined the time within which a party switch can be made legally, so that cross-voting is held constitutional within limits.

Federal district courts have struck down laws on cross-voting, where the time interval went beyond reason. The seven states affected were New Jersey, Florida, Indiana, Illinois, Maine, New Hampshire and Wisconsin. Their decisions cleared the way both for cross-voting and for the young voters to participate as voters and candidates in those primaries.

The question is not wholly resolved, since the court gave no reason for denying the stay. The exact time after which cross-voting is permitted, or other circumstances in which it may be legal, are yet to be stated. It is important to do so, to preserve the two-party system. We hope the court will clear its ruling.

Jack Anderson Says

Rooney Holds Pursestrings

WASHINGTON—For years, Rep. John Rooney, D-N.Y., has held the purse strings of four federal departments with the tight clutch of a miser.

The highest potentates of the State, Justice and Commerce departments must go through Rooney's wringer before they can get any funds out of Congress. Even Supreme Court justices must step down from their lofty perches and come before Rooney's House Appropriations Sub-committee, hat in hand.

But the crusty old curmudgeon miraculously is transformed into old Saint Nick himself when the special pleaders seek his favors.

He has been a jolly benefactor, for example, of the shipping interests. Rarely has he held back a dime from the maritime subsidy program which keeps the shipping companies afloat.

In election years, the shippers pay him back, in kind, with financial assistance. For instance, his Washington campaign treasurer this year is Nicholas Pasco, a lobbyist for the Moore-McCormack Lines, which received $14 million in federal subsidies last year.

It has become an election-year ritual for the shipping companies to pass the hat for Rooney. It's too early to trace down all the contributions, but we've located a $250 donation already from Spyros S. Skouras, chairman of Prudential Grace Lines. This company last year collected $40.3 million in federal subsidies.

In the past, the shippers' enthusiasm for Rooney has landed them in trouble. The Pacific Far East Lines and American President Lines have been convicted of making illegal contributions to him from their corporate tills.

But the fines were nothing compared to the whopping subsidies that the two companies squeezed out of the taxpayers. Pacific Far East got $11 million; American President made off with $33 million.

Rooney helpfully raised the Commerce Department's requested appropriation for American President by $7 million. He said he thought the company needed it.

Seatrain Ship Building, which has also received federal assistance with Rooney's support, has made billboards for his current campaign.

FOOTNOTE: Rooney's subcommittee has such power over the government departments that he was able to save Charles Kriger from losing his job in the Small Business Administration. Kriger's wife, Henrietta, subsequently donated $500 to Rooney's campaign in 1970 and another $250 in 1972.

Washington Whirl

BOYLE'S ASSETS— Tony Boyle, boss of the United Mine Workers, is about to be sentenced by a federal judge for making illegal campaign contributions. He could be fined up to $120,000. Despite his $50,000 a year salary, however, Boyle may claim he can't pay such a fine. The reason: he quietly transferred his assets, estimated at $250,000, into his wife's name last December before his trial.

GROMYKO'S HUMOR—As evidence of the cordial atmosphere at the recent Moscow summit meeting, both the Russians and Americans lightened the negotiations with good-natured kidding. From party chief Leonid Brezhnev on down, the Russians showed they could laugh at themselves. Even Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, who has one of the most celebrated sour pusses in the world, exhibited a sense of humor. At one point, he offered mischievously: 'We'll throw Cuba in for good measure." Another time, White House foreign policy advisor Henry Kissinger was ribbing him. "Did you hear, Gromyko, that they launched an SS9 (the Soviet monster missile) and nothing happened?" kidded Kissinger. Gromyko shrugged. "In this country," he said, "nothing works."

SECRET QUIP— Senator Cliff Hansen, R-Wyo., a tanned rancher who has contended in the past with conservationists, had some caustic remarks for them at a secret meeting of the Senate Interior committee. The only difference between an environmentalist and a developer, grumped Hansen, is that the environmentalist built his mountain cabin last year.

ITT SECURITY — The embattled International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. has issued a special booklet entitled "Security of Proprietary Information." Beside a picture of a man carrying a batch of documents into the shredding room, the booklet says: "ITT proprietary information shall not be treated as ordinary waste. You should not dispose of it in a waste basket. If you do, unauthorized access may result."

PARAGUAY REACTS—Paraguay recalled its ambassador to the United States, Dr. Roque Avila, for consultation immediately after our charges that the top ranks of his government are filled with heroin traffickers. Avila had recommended privately to his bosses in Asuncion that August Ricord, a notorious heroin trafficker now in a Paraguayan prison, be extradited to the United States. Meanwhile, we have learned that Rep. Peter Rodino, D-N.J., who is seeking to cut off $7.5 million in foreign aid to Paraguay because of its drug smuggling, has spoken with the U.S. Ambassador to Paraguay, Raymond Ylitalo. The ambassador assured the congressman that Ricord would soon be sent to the United States to face narcotics charges.

FALSE CHARGE—Bart Schwartz, author of a book called "Nixon Will Lose in '72," has been reported by the Better Business Bureau to be a ghostwriter for the Democratic National Committee. The BBB has also charged that the Democrats financed the book. Both charges are false. They were made in an erroneous report to the Milwaukee Journal's advertising department by the local BBB office.

"See What the Boys in the Back Seat Will Have!"

David Lawrence Says

The Election Year

WASHINGTON — With the Democratic National Convention just about a month away, Senator George S. McGovern of South Dakota seems to have accumulated enough delegate strength in the states which have held primaries to assume that he can capture the nomination of his party. Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota is not giving up the fight, and one can never tell what blocs of delegates will do at a National Convention when no candidate has enough to win on the first or second ballot.

Senator McGovern has a full month in which to campaign in some of the big states of the Union, including New York. He has been getting such widespread publicity that his speeches and appearances on television will certainly attract the attention of voters.

Senator Humphrey, former Vice President and Presidential candidate in 1968, is not ready to surrender, for he has made a pretty good showing in various states. He has many friends among the delegates. It is not unusual for a candidate in a minority position to carry the battle to the convention floor and sometimes to win. One thing seems clear — the result will not be definitely known until the convention has actually voted.

As for Governor George Wallace of Alabama, his votes may wind up as an independent nucleus. The delegates he has could represent a large enough group to encourage him to try again as a third-party candidate.

The big question then would be whether the Wallace votes would tend to cause more losses on Election Day to the Republican or to the Democratic side. Last time, a plurality decided the contest when Nixon got 43.4 per cent of the vote, Humphrey 42.7 per cent and Wallace 13.5 per cent.

Governor Wallace insists that he is going to continue to campaign even from a wheelchair, including some television broadcasts. he has been getting a larger vote in the primaries than anticipated by his managers and might make a stronger showing this time than he did in 1968. It is probable that he would draw many more votes from the Democrats than from the Republicans.

Meanwhile, Congress is lagging behind in its work, and important pieces of legislation are being deferred until after the election. There is talk of tax "reform," but there is little likelihood of any important bills being passed in an election year. Certain subjects, such as ratification of the treaties which President Nixon signed with the Soviet Union, will be favorably acted upon by the Senate. The chances are, however, that most of the members of Congress will be spending time campaigning for re-election or for their party and will not be doing much in Washington until after November 7.

This happens in most Presidential-election years, and sometimes the Executive Departments welcome such a period because it gives them an opportunity to go ahead with their operations without worrying about changes in existing laws. Fiscal policies for next year may be affected by the agreements made in Moscow on the limitation of nuclear weapons, and there have been suggestions that some military expenditures can be curtailed. It is argued, on the other hand, that more money will be needed to strengthen the nation's defenses in various categories.

If business conditions continue to improve, a lower budget deficit may be anticipated, but the fiscal situation is highly uncertain. It is doubtful whether clear figures on what the deficit is going to be for the next fiscal year, which ends on June 30, 1973, will be available for months to come. Most of the reports from the business world are on the optimistic side, and there is a feeling that the larger revenues resulting from an expansion of industrial activity will be enough to reduce somewhat the deficits that have been mentioned in the discussions about 1973 prospects for the U.S. Treasury.

The general belief in administration circles is that the recovery is well underway, that controls are working and that the full impact of the administration's economic policies will be reflected sometime during 1973 in the figures showing higher profits in business and larger government revenues as well as a drop-off in unemployment.

Martin Nolan Says

California Is Another Planet

LOS ANGELES — Gurgling and bubbling along Wilshire Boulevard here are the La Brea Tar Pits, a reservoir whose sweet, oily substance attracted thousands of prehistoric animals to a sticky death.

For the 20th-century archaeologists and paleontologists, the pits have proved a mine of mastodon skeletons and other artifacts of the Pleistocene Age. The asphalt puddle today sits as a symbol of the finiteness of California, an omen of a fossilized future.

The golden age of growth has stopped here. The last shopping-center outpost, the ultimate oil spill and of course, the smog — all have shown Californians that unrestrained political, economic and cultural change can lead to a warm, asphalt tomb.

The Los Angeles Basin — a bowl formed by glorious mountains — is a giant garage, its fumes spewing forth constantly, mixing with industrial effluence and defying the sun. The furor over Propsition 9, a referendum on Draconian antipollution measures, attracted as much voter interest this week as did presidential politics.

For Easterners, Southern California is still another planet. The late Fred Allen, an unreconstructed Bostonian, said that the state was all right to live in if you happen to be an orange.

Some NBC officials seem worried to late because of Johnny Carson's transfer of "The Tonight Show" from New York. A certain sharpness has left the monologue, a bland plastic glaze seems to cover the guest list. The languor of lotus-eating lifestyle takes its toll.

In another form of communication, the languor also seems threatening. The Los Angeles Times was faced with the threat of a West Coast edition of the New York Times a decade ago and reacted by an ambitious expansion of news coverage and editorial innovation. Now that the threat from the East has receded, so have the ambitions of the L. A. Times. Amid internal convulsions, it has seemed to opt for languid parochialism.

The L. A. Basin is a massive TV and radio studio, with competition bizarrely fierce among the stations. That's why a former police chief is a TV anchorman and why one TV crew interrupted George McGovern in his hotel swimming pool for the first interview with a major presidential candidate in eight feet of water. The hunger for identification and uniqueness on the airwaves has led to such things as "The Sam Yorty Show" and "The Jess Unruh Show."

When the folks at "Laugh-In" first coined "Beautiful Downtown Burbank" as a perjorative on urban living, the derision was different somehow from the old radio comedians' surefire crack at the word "Brooklyn." A Mojave of chrome and neon, Burbank seems empty of people. The aesthetic criticism in the joke is important, but so is its emphasis on the artificiality of California living.

Northern California is growing farther and farther away in ideology and culture from the more populous southland. San Francisco is practically European by comparison.

The Pleistocene politics of California spreads throughout the state. Again, an absence of restraint and the too-late discovery of finiteness have created tar pits of ideological absolutism. Here, the legions of little old ladies in tennis shoes are especially righteous. So are the Berkeley-led battalions of knee-jerk radicals to whom the acquittal of Angela Davis was something of a disappointment.

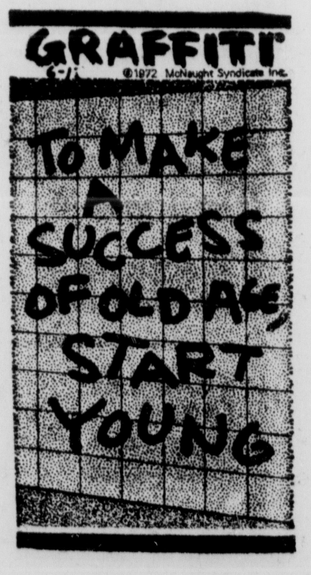

If this place sounds so awful, why does one out of every 10 Americans live here? The compensations are obvious — no snowplows, no protocols, a breezier code of behavior.

Shirley MacLaine, one of the many intelligent members of the movie community, notes that the difference between here and New York is that "here people move in slow motion." After a discussion of pluses and minuses, she blinks engagingly, then gives the reason: "The smog, you know, it hurts your eyes."

'Elated Over Turnout' . . . Schermerhorn on Opening

KINGSTON

"I'm elated at the size of the turnout," said State Sen. Richard E. Schermerhorn as he greeted the more than 300 persons who turned out for the opening of his campaign headquarters in Kingston recently at 38½ John Street.

The Republican candidate in the June 20 Primary in the new 40th Senatorial District was buoyed by the number of state, county and city officials who attended.

Speaking briefly, Sen. Schermerhorn said he will continue to:

- "Oppose forced busing of school children to achieve a so-called racial balance in the Legislature, the courts and physcially if necessary.
- "Oppose higher taxes because I believe that government must learn to live within its income.
- "Oppose legalized murder even when they call it abortion.
- Oppose gun control—which will ultimately leave the criminals with all the guns and the citizens defenseless as the courts turn these criminals loose upon the streets to assault, maim and kill honest citizens.
- "Oppose all powerful authorities who possess the power to usurp local government, a case in point being the Mass Transportation Authority, and the people of Orange County who are at its (MTA's) mercy—and MTA has not shown much of that.
- "Oppose the concept of regional and metropolitan government which is designed to destroy local zoning and local home rule.
- "Oppose the dismemberment of private and parochial schools caused by the inaction of the state, and the refusal to supply the necessary funds to keep them in operation.
- "Oppose attempts to shackle the police.
- "Oppose enemies of my country from within and without. And, I will oppose any attempt to diminish the penalty for defacing the American Flag for full prosecution under the existing laws of this great state."

Mrs. Raymond Armater, women's coordinator for the Schermerhorn Committee was assisted at the headquarters opening by Mrs. Stanley Caple, Mrs. Edward Wiltsie, Mrs. Edward Feeney, Mrs. James Fisher, Mrs. Richard Weir, Mrs. Joseph Russo, Mrs. Sam Perry, Mrs. Augustus Parker and Mrs. Frank Reis.

WELCOME SCHMERHORN —A cocktail party officially welcoming Richard Schermerhorn, a candidate for state senator in Republican primary in the new Southern Ulster district was held at the home of Gus and Tessie Parker of 73 Crane Street recently. Participants included Gus Parker (L) Schermerhorn, Albert Spada, Ulster County Republican chairman, Mrs. Parker and H. Clark Bell, Ulster County assemblyman. (Freeman photo by Powell)

Gilman Tells Inmates Perils Of Drug Abuse

WALLKILL

Assemblyman Benjamin A. Gilman who is a Republican candidate for Congress in Ulster County's new 26th Congressional District, told the 100 graduating members of the Wallkill Correctional Facility that they should "take an active part in the war on drugs with their new gained knowledge.

Gilman, who was endorsed recently by the New York Patrolmen's Benevolent Association noted that many had entered the state's penal system as a result of drug abuse.

"You more than anyone," Assemblyamn Gilman said, "know the perils of drug abuse . . . you know it better than anyone except those who were not fortunate enough to live through their drug abuse experience.

"I know that through your Jaycees Chapter here you are planning an extensive drug abuse education program and for that you are to be commended. Take your new found education and apply it to preventing others from suffering the plight of exposure to drugs."

Gilman told the graduates of his efforts made toward penal reform, during his six years in the State Legislature, including his legislation revising the dangerous substances laws in both the health and penal law, and upgrading the laws to meet federal standards.

Chairman of the Assembly Subcommittee on Industrial Expansion Gilman also held the third in a series of public hearings, recently to examine methods to improve the state's economic climate. The hearing was held in the State Office Bufilding, Utica. Approximately 30 people attended.

Bell Elated Over Action

KINGSTON

Assemblyman H. Clark Bell today termed Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller's action on the senior citizen property tax exemption bill a tremendous boon to citizens who are 65 years of age or older.

The Kingston assemblyman, sponsor of the bill, said: "The governor's signature on this bill will enable more senior citizens to enjoy the benefits of property tax exemptions and gain some relief from inflation."

Previous to the enactment of the new law, localities were allowed to grant senior citizens property tax exemptions up to 50 per cent of the assessed value if their income was between $3,000 and $5,000.

The new legislation authorizes localities to raise the $5,000 ceiling to $6,000, thereby increasing the maximum income eligibility level and allowing more senior citizens to qualify for real property tax exemptions.

Assemblyman Bell said: "This legislation is in line with the basic principle of home rule and allows a community to strike an equitable balance between the needs of its senior citizens and the needs and resources of the remainder of the community."

Teacher Group Backs Barone

MONROE

Anthony M. Barone, Republican candidate for State Senator from the new 40th District, has been endorsed by the New York State Teachers Association.

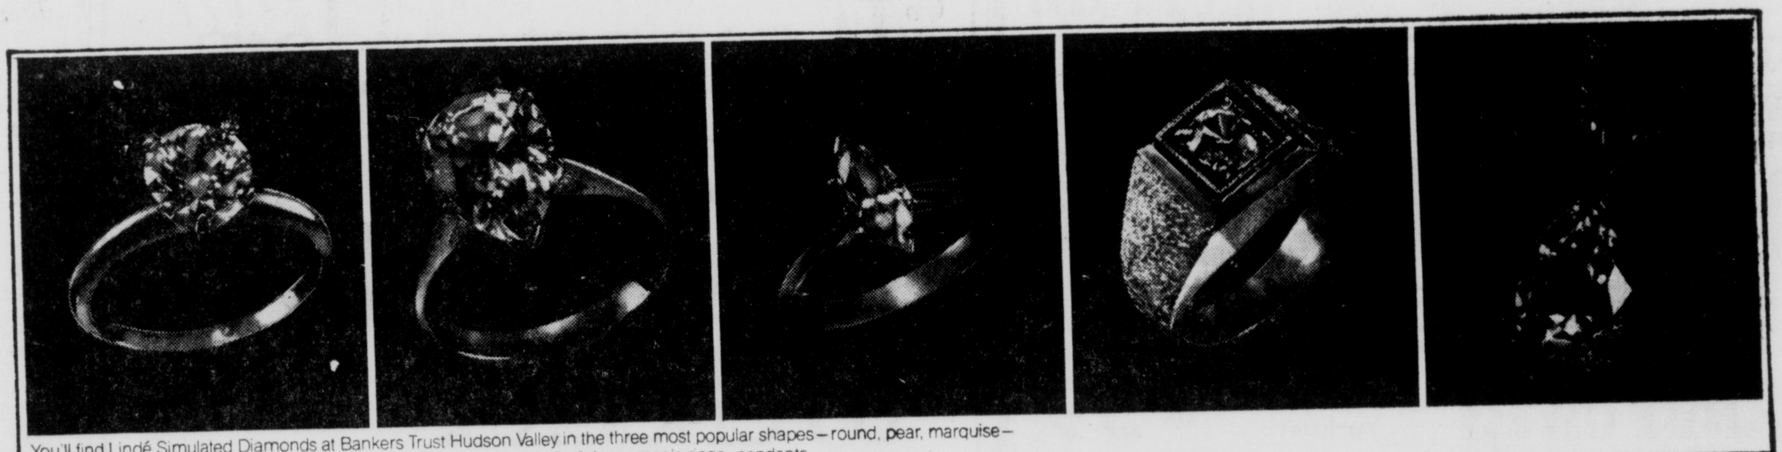

In a letter to Barone, the NYSTA's political action arm, known as VOTE (Voice of Teachers in Education), said "Your stated intention to support the proper funding of public education in New York State, to protect and advance the legitimate interests of the teachers were compelling factors in VOTE's decision to support your state senatorial primary candidacy.

"We will urge that the teachers and all citizens interested in quality public education in the 40th State Senatorial District support you at the polls on Primary Day, June 20. We look forward to your success on that day." The letter was signed by Roy L. MacDougal, chairman of the VOTE State Steering Committee.

There are approximately 3,000 teachers in the new 40th Senatorial District.

Two Men Arrested, Stolen Property Charge

TOWN OF ULSTER

Accused of possessing stolen property third degree as the result of an investigation by Hurley State Police BCI officers, two men were arrested late Friday night.

State Police identified the two as Dennis Corkery, 30, of Walton Lane, Kingston, said to be the operator of an Ulster Avenue Mall delicatessen and restaurant, and Paul Woitasek, 29, of Forest Hill Drive, Kingston, reportedly the operator of a beauty salon.

Troopers said the two were arraigned before Hurley Town Justice C. H. DuMond, who released them in custody of their attorneys pending a hearing at a later date.

According to the BCI, Corkery and Woitasek had in their possession cutting blocks allegedly stolen from the Quality Maple Block Company, Inc., Deyo Street, Kingston, recently. Arrested earlier by city detectives was John White, 42, of Box 466, Lake Katrine, who was described by police as an employe at the block company.

White was accused of taking cutting blocks from the establishment. His case was referred to Kingston City Court for hearing.

BCI Officer John F. Salters, who conducted the investigation with BCI Officer Fred Cooper, noted that cutting blocks valued at about $100 had been recovered. The investigation is continuing.

Bruck Funeral Home Inc. In Order of Golden Rule

KINGSTON

The Order of the Golden Rule has announced that the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home Inc., 411 Albany Avenue, has been re-accepted for membership.

To retain membership, a funeral directing firm must prove annually that it has continued to uphold high ethical and professional standards.

In making the formal notification of reacceptance, Roger Ytterberg, executive director of the Order, said: "The Henry J. Bruck firm has been carefully evaluated, leaving no doubt as to its sustained worthiness of membership in the Order of the Golden Rule. We are very proud that this firm will continue to display our emblem in this area."

The Order's emblem depicts a knight holding a shield, upon which are inscribed the words: "Service measured not by gold, but by the Golden Rule."

There are hundreds of members of the Order, located in communities throughout North America as well as in Australia, Bermuda, Ceylon, New Zealand, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. The Order was originated as a non-profit association in 1928.

Police Recover Antique Rocker

KINGSTON

An antique rocker that police reported was stolen during a burglary at a house at 26 Abeel Street on Sunday, was later recovered by detectives.

Peter Nagy of 18 Hone Street, described as caretaker at the house owned by Kenneth Hardee and a New York City woman identified as Mrs. Perkins, discovered a side door of the residence open shortly before noon Sunday.

Investigation disclosed that the rocker had been stolen. Detectives later found the chair at an antique dealer's shop on Abeel Street. The owner of the business reportedly told police he paid two young men $10 for the chair.

Detectives are continuing the investigation.

Police also reported the arrests of two young women on charges involving shoplifting from uptown stores.

A security officer at Sears Roebuck reported the arrest of Priscilla Davis, 19, of 25 Spring Street, this city, on a petit larceny charge. She allegedly took a $10 dress from the store.

Arrested with that defendant was Elizabeth Waters, 18, of 83 Broadway, who was booked on a charge of possessing stolen property third degree. Security police accused the woman of having in her possession a dress valued at $10 that allegedly had been stolen at London's Store.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Billy Gray wishes to extend our most grateful appreciation to all for the outpouring of sympathy and condolences. During our time of bereavement, your many kindnesses were a constant source of solace and comfort.

Annual Report of President of Saugerties Woman's Club

President Mrs. Edward Jabs of the Woman's Club of Saugerties reports on the activities that have been part of the club's efforts "To Seek a Better World," the club goal as stated in the dedication of the yearbook.

The 1971-72 club year was an active one for the Woman's Club of Saugerties. The year officially began in May with a luncheon and installation of officers: president, Mrs. Edward Jabs; first vice-president, Mrs. Thomas Zulick; second vice-president, Mrs. Edward Rusczyk; secretary, Mrs. Joseph LaSusa; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Richard Dunn; treasurer, Mrs. William Ziegler; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Walter Stolte. Mrs. J. Warren Braley, newly elected president of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs, served as installing officer. Also in May, the club was nominated for the 1971 National Volunteer Award and was pleased to travel to Cooperstown to the New York State Convention to present a comedy skit, "Fractured Fashion."

In June the Woman's Club was entered in the New York State Fair Competition. Two Ruth M. Gustin Memorial Scholarships were awarded to graduating Saugerties High School students, Miss Barbara MacMullen and Miss Anita Smith.

The general meeting in September was sponsored by the Education Department and featured a parent-teacher panel disccussion. September also saw a second successful tour of homes with the proceeds benefitting the Little Sawyer Association—a group which the Woman's Club was instrumental in forming to restore a grist mill on the Sawkill Creek. The membership tea was held on September 26 and the Community Affairs department sponsored a clothing drive for migrant workers. The Hospitality Committee began its practice of awarding a centerpiece at the monthly general meetings.

October was also a busy month, with the Woman's Club hostessing the Third District Meeting of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs. Another successful art show was held in conjunction with the Mum Festival. A rummage sale was held by the Ways and Means Committee and the Community Affairs Department arranged for a panel discussion on durgs for the general meeting. Also in October, members of the Woman's Club volunteered to drive patients to the free dental clinic. The club also reconfirmed sponsorship of Senior Girl Scout Troop No. 152.

In November the Home Department offered a lesson cooking with wine and a Thanksgiving dinner was collected by the Community Affairs Department and was given to a family which the Woman's Club adopted through the Neighborhood Service Center. The Literature and Music Department treated the club to an address by Woodstock Playhouse Director Harold Baldridge.

In December the general meeting was a party where members were pleased to have as guests their adopted family. Gifts and a food basket were given to the family at Christmas. The Legislative Committee compiled the first of several newsletters to keep members informed of club activities.

The Art Department featured two lessons in macrame in February and the Social Committee sponsored a talk and demonstration on candles with an international flavor courtesy of Mrs. Ann Rook and Mrs. Beatrice Bright of the BeeVer House. Also the club began working in the logopedics program by collecting Betty Crocker coupons to help obtain needed goods for handicapped children. The Ways and Means Committee sponsored a successful Bring and Buy Auction and a bake sale. The Home Department conducted a lesson on making china roses.

the highly successful Dinner-Dance. The Legislature Department advanced the cause of women's rights with a petition forwarded to our senators. Home Department arranged for Bryson Kalt to speak on children's safety and a representative of Woman's Club attended an informative meeting to hear about plans to build a nursing home and clinic.

March saw the Herrick Marionettes perform for Children's Theatre, a Music and Literature Department courtesy of the Art Department. Ways and Means conducted a rummage sale and the Home Department a workshop on cake decorating. The Community Affairs sponsored the most successful poster contest to date with 75 entries. In conjunction with the state project of book sharing, members brought books to be distributed through the Saugerties Neighborhood Service Center. The Rev. Richard Shepherd presented slides and a talk on the progress of the Little Sawyer Association.

Members were pleased to be notified that the Woman's Club of Saugerties placed 10th in a field of 176 applicants in the New York State Federation Community Improvement Program. Awards were presented at the State Convention at the Concord Hotel April 27th. President Jabs accepted the award for the Woman's Club of Saugerties on behalf of the late Marilyn Ashmore who was president when the club began the project work which led to this year's award. Accompanying Mrs. Jabs was Mrs. Thomas Zulick, first vice-president, who organized the scrapbook detailing the club's activities and achievements. Also in attendance at the state convention were Mrs. Dexter O. Arnold, Mrs. Richard Dunn, Mrs. Robert Finger Jr., Mrs. Frank Lauffer, and Mrs. Edward Rusczyk.

The Woman's Club sponsored the Women's Fraternal Week Tea on sunday, June 4th. Yet to come in June is the awarding of two scholarships, the Ruth M. Gustin Scholarship and the Marilyn A. Ashmore Scholarship, to two Saugerties High School students.

For the 1972-73 club year department and committee chairmen are as follows: art, Mrs. Ronald LeBlanc; literature and music, Mrs. Albert Curl; home, Mrs. Frank Lauffer; conservation, Mrs. Jerome Milosek; community affairs, Mrs. Wayne Brunkhurst; education, Mrs. James Mills; ways and means, Mrs. Robert Anderson; membership, Mrs. Joseph Kramer; hospitality, Mrs. Bruce Caughell; legislature, Mrs. Victor Wood; social, Mrs. Donald Simmons; press, Mrs. Dennis Wurzel; sunshine, Mrs. Robert Finger Jr.; parliamentarian, Mrs. Robert Anderson.

A July wedding is being planned.

Flower Show Slated Wednesday

The Flower Show Committee of the Saugerties Society of Little Gardens has prepared what promises to be an outstanding show which will provide a memorable experience of beauty and creativity for all those attending. This 48th annual standard flower show is titled "A Treasury of Thoughts In Bloom" and will be presented on Wednesday, June 14 from 2:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the United Methodist Church, Washington Avenue, Saugerties. The Church Fellowship Hall will be open from 7 to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, June 13, for the placing of exhibits in any class or division. Exhibitors of horticulture and juniors are urged to enter at this time. Pot plants must be entered Tuesday, June 13.

Those attending the show will have the opportunity to browse through many bargains at the Garden Club Boutique. Some of the items featured will be healthy plants, antique glass bottles which can be used for lawn or porch ornaments, ceramic novelties, and many handcrafted items.

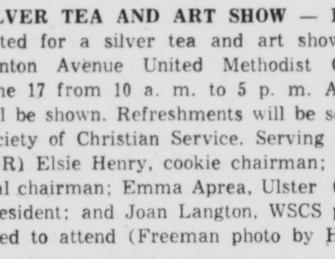

Members of the Flower Show Committee have enjoyed preparing this show. They are: chairman, Mrs. Hugo Knauert; co-chairman, Mrs. Frank Greco; staging, Mrs. Gordon Keeley; schedule, Mrs. Hugo Knauert; publicity, Mrs. John Whritenor; posters, Mrs. John Jagodzinski; entries, Mrs. Robert Finger, Mrs. Roy Helsmoortel, Miss Jane Ziegler, Mrs. Hugo Knauert; placement, Mrs. George Jorgensen, Mrs. William Everts, Mrs. Gordon Keeley, Mrs. John Jogodzinski, and Mrs. Donald Beckert; junior exhibits, Mrs. Donald Beckert.

Education and conservation, Mrs. Earl Moore; commercial, Mrs. Roy Helsmoortel; judges, Mrs. Brendan Dooley; clerks, Mrs. George Sawutz, Mrs. James Babb, Mrs. William Waldele, Mrs. Frank Greco; awards, Mrs. William Everts, Mrs. Robert Finger; hospitality, Mrs. John Whritenor; hostesses, Mrs. Michael Mattia; tickets, Mrs. Gordon Keeley; tea table, Mrs. John Whritenor; ways and means, Mrs. Francis Lawless; dismantling, Mrs. Frank Greco.

The club expresses appreciation to the Saugerties Savings Bank, the Saugerties National Bank and Trust Co., and Savings and Loan Association of Kingston—Saugerties Branch, for printing the flower show schedule.

Reunion Luncheon Held in Highland

Past and present Executive Committee members of Ulster County Cooperative Extension Association, Home Economic Division, gathered at Spero's in Highland on Wednesday, June 7 for their reunion luncheon, the first in seven years. Several members traveled great distances to be present. Cooperative Extension in Ulster County was founded in 1914 and several ladies in attendance had served on the board in the early stages of Extension, some holding office while serving.

HOME ECONOMIC DIVISION of Ulster County Coopetrative Extension Association held a reunion luncheon recently in Spero's Restaurant in Highland. Among those in attendance were (l-r) Miss Everice Parsons of Canaan, Conn.; Marion Dietz, New Paltz, chairman of the Executive Committee; Shirly Cyr, Saugerties, co-chairman of the luncheon; Ann Morgan, Kerhonkson, vice chairman; Ann McIntyre, New Paltz, luncheon chairman. (Freeman photo by Haines)

The Executive Committee consists of nine volunteer housewives who are members of Cooperative Extension Home Economic Division. There are 50 clubs throughout Ulster County. An effort is made to choose board members from all areas of the county. Each board member is elected to a three year term of office not to exceed three terms. The nominating committee elects a chairman, a vice chairman and a secretary. They are elected for a one year term of office, never more than two.

Current Executive Committee members are Marian Dietz, chairman, New Paltz; Ann Morgan, vice chairman, Kerhonkson; Mary Eppart, secretary, Lake Katrine; Ann McIntyre, luncheon chairman, New Paltz; Rolande Bollin, Saugerties; Shirley Cyr, Saugerties; Ella Whitaker, Lake Katrine; Dorothy Kurzaua, Woodstock. Lolla Chappelll of Kingston recently resigned because of leaving the area. She was replaced by Gail Russell from Highland.

The Executive Committee members volunteer their help to the three agents in the division, Phyllis Barlow, Louise Breitung and Elizabeth Overbaugh, in whatever service is needed. Members help develop programs, give leadership where it's needed, start new clubs, attend Board of Directors meetings and seminars at Cornell University. They help man booths at the Horticultural Show, also at Ladies' Day, the Lions Show, Ulster County Fair and Christmas Open House. Their aim is to help the homemaker of Ulster County to help herself with her home and her children.

Perhaps the best explanation is the Homemaker Creed, written by Ruby Green Smith, which reads as follows:

To maintain the highest ideals of home life;

To count children the most important crops;

To guide them so that their bodies may be sound;

Their minds clear, their spirits happy, their characters generous;

To place service above comfort, to let loyalty to high purposes silence discordant notes;

To let neighborliness supplant hatreds; to be discouraged never;

To lose self in generous enthusiasms, to extend the less fortunate a helping hand;

To believe one's community may become the best of communities;

And to cooperate with others for the common ends of a more abundant home and community life;

This is the offer of the Extension Service to the homemaker of today!

ELKS LADIES AUXILIARY, BPOE #550, returned its officers to another term of service at the 37th annual banquet, given on June 6 in LeHerb's Restaurant. Among those serving again in 1972-73 will be (l-r) Mrs. Stella Morris, treasurer; Mrs. Mildred Cozza, president; Mrs. Marguerite Logan, secretary; and Mrs. Belinda Karabinos, financial secretary. Suspect V.D.? Don't Postpone Checkup

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I have a good friend who is my age (16). We are very close and tell each other everything. Well, my friend thinks she has V.D., but she's afraid to go to a doctor because she thinks her folks might find out.

She is planning on being a Junior Counselor at a summer camp where she has been a camper for many years. I tell her she has to go to a doctor before she goes to camp, because she might spread around whatever she has, and that would be just terrible.

Abby, she is so frightened and stubborn. How can I make her go to a doctor? Her family doctor is a friend of her parents.

HER FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Tell her to telephone the County Health Department and tell them her problem. She will be examined (and treated if necessary) without her parents' knowledge or consent. If she is too frightened to do this, ask her to write to me and I will make the appointment for her. Insist that she act TODAY, and please let me hear from you again.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A hurt Mother wrote that her son was being married at a big fancy church wedding. She said she had a beautiful unmarried daughter who was 23, tall and slim who wasn't even asked to be in the wedding party.

Without knowing any of the facts, I'll bet I know why they didn't ask that girl to be in the wedding party. She was TOO beautiful, and the bride didn't want any competition.

SAME EXPERIENCE

DEAR SAME: That's a possibility that almost every mother would find easy to believe.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have a very happy marriage. At least we did until something happened which has put a strain on it.

On my husband's last birthday, his sister and her husband gave him a large (practically life-sized) framed painting of a nude woman. Abby, I am not a prude, but I don't care for the painting, and I don't want it displayed in our home.

My husband has been rather passive about it, but when I suggested we exchange it for another one, he refused. I think, in time he will probably hang it.

Until this happened my relationship with my sister-in-law was good, but now it has soured. Am I wrong to object, and have you any suggestions?

ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: You're not wrong, and I suggest you remind your husband that it's your home, too, and that you're entitled to a voice in what shall be displayed there.

If he wants to hang it, tell him to put it where he can enjoy it and it won't bother you. (Like in his place of work, his closet, or wherever.)

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO ALL WHO WROTE, REQUESTING THE RECIPE FOR MY MOTHER-IN-LAW'S FABULOUS SWEET AND SOUR SAUCE: Sorry, I don't have it. Nobody has. She never measures anything.

* * *

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

* * *

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

St. John New President Of Pattern for Progress

MOUNTAINVILLE Howard C. St. John, Kingston attorney and president of the Ulster County Savings Bank, was elected chairman of the board of Mid-Hudson Pattern for Progress at the organization's annual meeting recently, at the Storm King Art Center, Mountainville in Orange County.

St. John succeeds H. Peter Stern, president of Star Expansion Industries Inc., Mountainville, who served four consecutive one-year terms as head of the private seven-county regional planning, research and development corporation which now has some 350 organizational and individual members representing a broad range of area viewpoints.

Stern will continue as a corporate officer, occupying one of the two vice-chairman positions formerly held by St. John. The other vice-chairman is R. Watson Pomeroy of Wassaic, former state senator and noted conservationist.

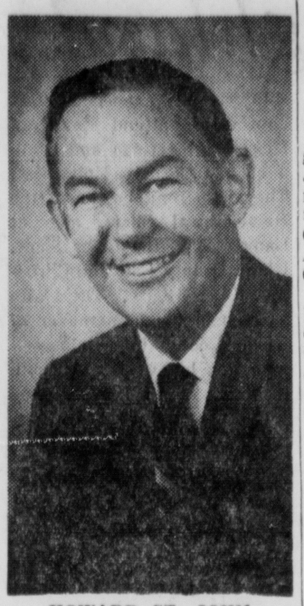

In other corporate changes, Herbert L. Shultz, president of Rodie Coal Company, Kingston was elected secretary. Edmund Lloyd, head of Lloyd's Shopping Centers Inc., Middletown was named treasurer.

St. John a former Ulster County district attorney has been president of the Ulster County Savings Bank since 1965 and a practicing attorney in Kingston since 1958.

A World War II veteran, he attended Hamilton College and graduated from Albany Law School in 1948. He is a member of Kingston Kiwanis Club and Wiltwyck Country Club. He and his wife, Phyllis, have three children and live at 27 Burgevin Street.

Five new directors were also elected to three-year terms on Patterns Board, They are: Sherret S. Chase of Shokan, president of the Catskill Center for Conservation and professor at State University College at Oswego and a research associate at Harvard University.

Also Leon Bloom, president of Hamilton Reproductions, Poughkeepsie; John T. Easterbrook of Newburgh, chairman of the Highland National Bank; Lionel S. Frank, Beacon, president of Frank and Bolton Inc., and Tompkins and Baxter, insurance brokers and Carmi Rappaort, Hudson, an attorney and member of Columbia Memorial Hospital Board.

HOWARD ST. JOHN

Two Named to Advisory Council At Ulster Community College

A community college graudate now doing social work and the Ulster County Commissioner of Social Services are the two newest members of the Community Service Assistant Advisory Council at Ulster County Community College.

The former UCCC graduate is Mrs. Phebe Aeberli, a Wassaic Colony social worker asssigned to Ulster County; and the commissioner is Bernard Kramer, who was appointed to the Ulster County Social Services post on May 22.

Both appointmtnts were made by the Board of Trustees at the College.

Mrs. Aeberli recieved an Associate degree from UCCC in the Community Service Assistant program in June, 1968. She earned her Bachelor of Science Degree in Sociology from the State University College at New Paltz in 1970.

Mrs. Aeberli has served as field supervisor for Community Service Assistant students at UCCC in their field work experience placements.

Befort assuming the psot of Commissioner of Social Services, Kramer was secretary to the State Narcotics Addiction Control Commission and a communicaitons specialist for the State Narcotic Commission.

Kramer attended the Institute of Social Sciences at St. John's University and received a Doctor of Laws Degree from the St. John's University Law School.

A native of Poughkeepsie, he formerly was deputy commissioner of public welfare in Ulster and also formerly served as deputy clerk and assistant budget director for the former Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

The Council ,advises the College regarding its community Service Assistant program which leads to a two-year degree.

34,403 Give Answers To Fish Questionnaire

WASHINGTON, D. C. Rep. Hamilton Fish Jr. announced today that in 30 days, 34,403 residents of the newly formed 25th Congressional District have responded to his annual questionnaire.

"Although some additional questionnaires arrive at my office every day, in the past I have found that the bulk of such returns occur within a 30-day period," Congressman Fish said.

"In studying the results of the questionnaire, which have just been returned to me by an independent computer company, I find an overwhelming opinion among constituents that the Phase II price controls of the administration are not working with prices still rising at an unacceptable level."

Respondents from the 25th Congressional also heavily favor federal regulations for private pension plans, and opinion was fairly well divided between those who preferred total health coverage, and those who would favor coverage only of catastrophic illness.

"The questionnaire results indicate an overwhelming number of residents favor the administration's policy of rapproachement to Red China along with the administration's present level of support for Nationalist China," Fish said.

On the question "Are you satisfied with President Nixon's efforts to end American involvment in Vietnam," although 57.5 per cent of the male respondents indicated their satisfaction, only 47.8 per cent of the women agreed, with only 37.2 per cent of the age group between 15 and 21 also agreeing.

On the question of amnesty for draft evaders, an overwhelming majority of the respondents were opposed to any amnesty, with only the youth opinion being less than a majority with 47.8 per cent opposing amnesty.

Fish said that a majority of the residents of the newly created 25th Congressional District oppose the development of Stewart Airport into the Metropolitan Area's fourth jetport.

The question, "Would you favor development of Stewart Airport into the Metropolitan Area's fourth jetport?" showed 52.6 per cent of male respondents, 60.3 per cent of the female and 58.4 per cent of young people between the ages of 15 and 20 opposing the plan.

The same questionnaire showed that a slight plurality of the respondents would be willing to pay higher taxes to end air and water pollution.

On drug abuse, a lop-sided majority of respondents favored a majority of federal funds being directed toward enforcement of drug laws, rather than to be spent to rehabilitate drug addicts.

A similar lop-sided opinion was given in relation to federal funds being spent for busing of school children to meet requirements of the U.S. Supreme Court, with 80.1 per cent of the women, and 68.8 per cent of the youth indicating their opposition to such funding.

Respondents on the question concerning school finance showed a surprising unanimity that the problem was one for the states and not the federal government.

VETS GET HAND — Mrs. Russell Fallon, Mrs. Edward Arnold and Mrs. Sidney Lane (L-R) welcome Vietnam veterans Bob Siracusano (L) and Bob Peloke to the Veterans Assistance Day held Friday at the National Guard Armory on Manor Avenue in Kingston. The all-day event was to aid ex-servicemen in making the transition from military service to civilian life and was sponsored by the Greene-Ulster unit of the Mid-Hudson Post Vietnam Planning Committee. Veterans received information about employment opportunities, education and other benefits available to them. (Freeman photo by Haines)

Dutchess Water Firms Given Okay From PSC

ALBANY The New York State Public Service Commission has announced approval of the merger of Annandale Water Works Inc. and the College Park Water Corp.

Both companies are wholly owned subsidiaries of the Annandale Development Corp. and provide water service through an interconnected system to two adjoining real estate developments near Red Hook.

In approving the merger, the Commission refused to accept allegations by Raymond Rhodes of Linden Acres, Red Hook, who opposed the merger.

In a brief filed by Rhodes on May 1, in opposition to the merger, he contended that Annandale's wells were not adequate; that consolidation would make it difficult to ascertain how much financial burden customers of Annandale would carry on behalf of College Park customers; that the interconnection was made under false pretenses and that Annandale has had to truck in substantial quantities of water to maintain an adequate supply.

In reply, the Commission noted that Annandale's wells produce 75,000 gallons a day and with modifications will be able to produce 93,600 a day against an average consumption of 85,600 daily.

Also, the Commission said records of the two companies indicate that Annandale Water had a net loss for the test period; College Park showed a small net profit; that the interconnection was approved in 1968 by the State Water Resources Commission; and that water was trucked in last year because of equipment failures, rather than supply failures.

Annandale Water provides service to 120 homes; College Park to 95 homes. Wells of Annandale Water are the source of supply for both systems.

Dairy Queens at Legislature

KINGSTON More than a dozen candidates for Ulster County Dairy Princess will make an appearance at the June 15 meeting of the Ulster County Legislature and will be introduced by Peter J. Savago, chairman of the county board prior to the 8 p. m. session.

The young women, who reside on dairy farms throughout the county, will compete in the Dairy Princess competition to be held Tuesday, June 27 at the Gov. Clinton Hotel.

At Thursday's legislative session S. Robert Kelder, R-Dist. 2) and Philip H. Davis, (R-Dist. 11) will supply dairy products for the Dairy Month display, and Eugene O. Corey, (R-Dist. 9) who operates a florist in Wallkill will provide corsages for each of the candidates who will be coming from Wallkil, Saugerties, Stone Ridge, Kerhonkson, Hurey and New Paltz.

In addition to the promotion of Dairy Month, Ulster County Unit of the American Cancer Society will have a display for its "No Thanks Eve, I'd Rather Have An Apple" promotion.

Any person that surrenders his pack of cigarettes receives an apple from one of the young ladies attending the display. Mrs. Ashton W. Hart of New Paltz, public education chairman is in charge of the promotion.

Lyle Reelected KWB Head

KINGSTON Thomas R. Lyle was reelected president of the Kingston Board of Water Commissioners at a recent meeting at City Hall.

THOMAS LYLE

Also reelected was Frank C. Sass as secretary.

Lyle was appointed to the water board June 1, 1970 for a five year term while Sass was named June 1, 1968 for a five-year term. He had previously served as president.

It was announced by President Lyle that Commissioner Jack Shienvold was reappointed June 1, to serve a 5-year term of office. Shienvold was first appointed to the board in January, 1970 upon the death of Sam N. Mann to serve Commissioner Mann's unexpired term.

At the regular meeting it was noted to the board that the annual continuing maintenance program for upgrading the city's water system was proceeding satisfactorily. Two major projects involving the cleaning and cement lining of existing water mains in St. James Street from Broadway to Wall Street and DeWitt Street had been completed. Although costs of these projects are not finalized at this time it is expected that a savings of more than 60 per cent of the cost of replacement of these mains will be realized. All work was done by water department maintenance forces under the immediate supervision of Department Foreman Joseph Woods with specialized equipment leased from Mainlining Service Inc., North Tonawanda.

Another major project planned for this year is the replacement of more than 2,000 feet of old six inch and eight inch main in W. O'Reilly Street and Marys Avenue with new 12 inch cement lined cast iron pipe. This work, also to be done by the water department maintenance division, will assure better quality water and, more importantly, materially increase the quantity of water available for fire protection at the Sophie Finn Public School and Benedictine Hospital.

Commissioners Gilbert Williams, Paul J. Schatzel and Shienvold were also in attendance at this annual meeting.

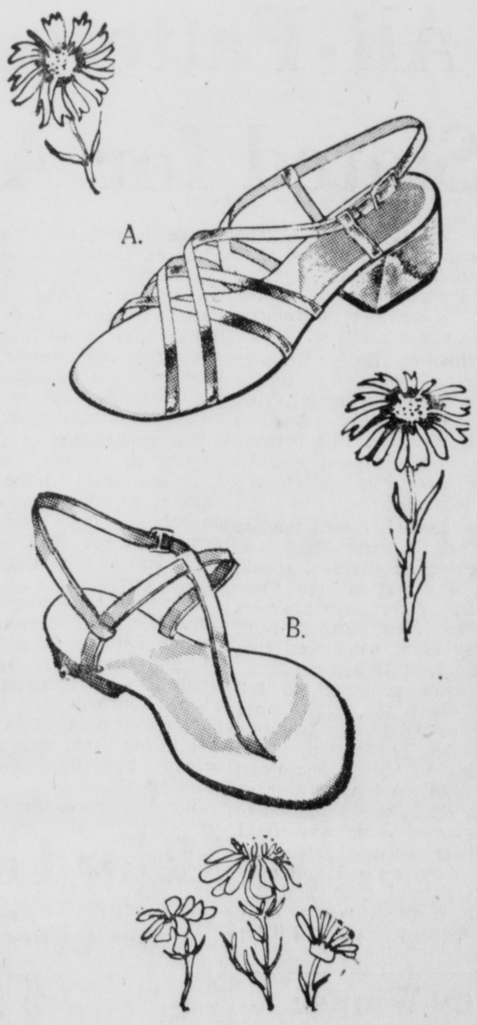

Board President Lyle, beginning his second one-year term, is a former city clerk of Kingston and former Kingston Democratic Committee chairman.

He is owner of the Thomas R. Lyle Insurance Agency at 277 Fair Street.

WITH A CLOUD of dust and a mighty "You're Safe" from plate umpire Bill Williams, Mets Rusty Staub (he's somewhere in the dust storm) slides across the plate with a run in the third inning of game with the Houston Astros at Shea Stadium Sunday. Looking for the disappearing Staub is Houston's catcher John Edwards. The Astros won, 4-2. (UPI)

NL Scramble Tightens Up

By GREG GALLO
UPI Sports Writer

The two divisional races in the National League tightened considerably Sunday and the home-run ball played a decisive part.

In the East, the Pittsburgh Pirates drew within a half-game of the first-place New York Mets as old-reliable Roberto Clemente poled a two-out, two-run homer in the seventh inning to lead the Bucs to a 7-5 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Inside the-park homers by Manny Mota and Willie Davis of the Dogers were wasted as Los Angeles fell a full game behind the sizzling Cincinnati Reds in the Western Division race.

The Reds clobbered the Montreal Expos, 11-1, while the Houston Astros, who are just 2½ games out of first place in the West, knocked off the Mets, 4-2, with the help of a two-run homer and run-scoring triple by Cesar Cedeno.

Other NL Action

In other National League action, Philadelphia defeated Atlanta, 3-1, San Diego edged St. Louis, 4-3, in 10 innings, and the Chicago Cubs split with the Giants, taking the opener, 4-0, and losing the nightcap, 3-1.

The Big Red Machine was well-oiled in Montreal. The Reds pounded four Expo pitchers for 16 hits, four by hot-hitting Johnny Bench, who drove in three runs, as did Hal McRae. Bench and McRae both doubled while Tony Perez added a triple to the Reds' assault that made Gary Nolan's eighth victory of the season an easy one.

Duffy Dyer homered for the Mets off Dave Roberts, who went the distance for Houston and picked up his fifth victory against three defeats.

Carlton Wins Second

Steve Carlton scattered eight hits to win his second straight game as the Phils downed the Braves. Oscar Gamble scored one run and drove home another with a sacrifice fly to help Carlton to his seventh victory of the season. Ron Reed took the loss, his seventh against four victories.

The Padres broke a 10-game losing streak when Derrell Thomas singled in the winning run with none out in the 10th. Back-to-back home runs by Nate Colbert and Larry Stahl in the ninth sent the game into extra innings.

Rick Wise, who had a shutout for the Cards until the eighth inning, contributed to his own defeat by committing a costly throwing error that let the winning run advance to third base in the last inning.

The Giants snapped an eight game losing streak as Ron Bryant pitched a five-hitter in the second game win over the Cubs. Two unearned runs in the sixth inning helped Bryant even his record at 3-3.

In the first game, Bill Hands hurled a five-hit shutout in outpitching hard-luck Juan Marichal, who suffered his 10th loss in 12 decisions.

Cedeno Slew Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — Cesar Cedeno, who hasn't been doing badly with the rest of the National League, was really zeroed in on the New York Mets Sunday.

Cedeno tripled home Houston's first run and then socked a two-run homer that broke a tie and helped the Astros to a 4-2 victory over New York.

The loss was the sixth in the last nine starts for the suddenly struggling Mets and, combined with Pittsburgh's 7-5 victory over Los Angeles, shaved New York's National League East lead to a narrow half game over the Pirates.

His two hits raised Cedeno's batting average to a healthy .327, fifth best in the NL.

The Astros had taken the lead in the second inning when Roger Metzger walked and scored on Cedeno's triple to right center. After the Mets drew even on Cleon Jones' RBI single in the bottom half of the inning, Duffy Dyer homered for a 2-1 New York edge.

It stayed that way until the seventh, with Jim McAndrew protecting the slim lead. But the Astros tied it on Doug Rader's double and Tommy Helms' RBI single. McAndrew retired the next two batters. Cedeno, though, hit into the bullpen for a home run, giving the Astros the lead.

Dave Roberts carried the lead into the ninth, but when Jim Beauchamp singled with one out, Fred Gladding came on to get Willie Mays and Tommie Agee and preserve the Victory.

The Mets moved to Atlanta tonight for a game against Atlanta with Gary Gentry, 3-4, opposing knuckleballer Phil Niekro, 7-5. Houston was at home tonight, sending Jerry Reuss, 3-5, against Montreal's Bill Stoneman, 5-5.

Allen Delivers the Vote

By MARTIN LADER
UPI Sports Writer

Chuck Tanner, who was expected to be spending most of his time this season apologizing for the Chicago White Sox, finds himself having to apply reverse psychology just so his players don't go walking around with "a lot of big heads."

Dick Allen delivered a big vote of confidence late Sunday after Chicago had completed a 6-4 and 5-4 double sweep of the Milwaukee Brewers that moved the streaking White Sox to within 3½ games of first-place Oakland in the American League West.

"I was glad to see us hit so many home runs today," said Allen, who slugged two of Chicago's five homers in the opener. "This club may not have a reputation for hitting a lot of homers, but they're going to be heard from because they're not just swinging for the fences. They've learned to wait for the good pitch. This is probably the best all-around club I've ever been on."

Oakland contributed its share to Chicago's big day by dropping a 3-2 decision to Detroit, and the Baltimore Orioles remained a game behind the Tigers in the East by beating the Texas Rangers, 3-1. Elsewhere, the Kansas City Royals edged the New York Yankees, 1-0, the Minnesota Twins beat the Cleveland Indians, 5-3, and the Boston Red Sox beat the California Angels, 8-4.

Carlos May, who had singled home the tying run in the seventh inning, delivered a bases-loaded single in the ninth to score Pat Kelly with the winning run as the White Sox won the nightcap. The Brewers had scored all four of their runs in the second inning, but Kelly got two of those back with a two-run homer in the fifth.

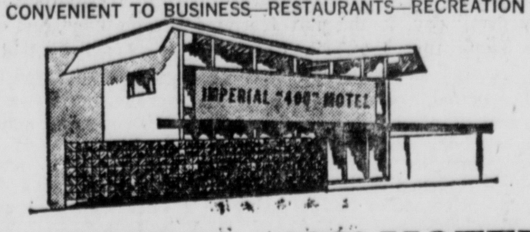

Bill Freehan slammed the first pitch of the ninth inning from Ken Holtzman for his third homer of the year to give Detroit the run that snapped its four-game losing streak.

Dave Johnson's first homer of the year gave Baltimore a 1-1 tie in the seventh inning at Texas and then he doubled home the Orioles' final run in the ninth. The winning run, though, came home minutes before Johnson's double on a wild pitch by reliever Horacio Pina.

Bobby Darwin, Jim Kaat and Jim Nettles all homered in Minnesota's victory over Cleveland and Carlton Fisk provided Boston with its decisive run by homering in the sixth inning.

Mike Batting .296

(By Combined Services)

Mike Ferraro broke a three-game batting slump with a pair of singles in the second game of a Milwaukee Brewers doubleheader Sunday to climb back to a .296 batting average.

The Kingston third baseman was hitless in Friday and Saturday games and in one appearance in the first game Sunday.

The two singles hiked Ferraro's average to .296 on 29 hits in 98 at bats, with eight doubles, one triple a homer and eight runs batted in with the addition of one Sunday. He played errorless ball in the field.

Chiefs Showed The Kids How

By United Press International

The Syracuse management gave away free bats on "bat day" Sunday, but the players didn't need any outside help as the Chiefs put on a hitting display of their own.

Syracuse assaulted five Charlie pitchers for 24 hits as it ripped Charleston 20 - 2 in International League competition.

Danny Walton hit a solo homer for Syracuse as the Chiefs scored in every inning except the fourth. A seven-run second inning proved to be the highlight of the Chiefs' scoring output.

Charleston Manager John "Red" Davis was so disgusted at his team's showing that he inserted player - coach Gary Kolb, a veteran utility man, to pitch for the Charlies in the sixth inning. Gerry Pirtle was the beneficiary of the batting cnslaught, going the distance to earn his second victory in as many decisions.

Richmond moved back into first place in the IL by one percentage point as it dealt Toledo a 6-0 defeat. Peninsula beat Louisville 4-1 and Tidewater defeated Rochester 5 - 3 in other games.

Manager Del Crandall has been inserting Bobby Heise at third base as an alternate to Ferraro in recent games. Heise collected two singles in four trips.

Drago Zips Yanks

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Dick Drago, Kansas City's powerful right-hander, limited the predominantly left-handed lineup of the New York Yankees to five hits Sunday en route to a 1-0 victory on a mixture of speed and curves.

"A lot of lefties can be difficult," said the 6-foot-1, 191-pounder after squaring his record at 4-4. "That takes away some of your pitches.

"I got some strikeouts on curves, but I set 'em up with fastballs," the Toledo, Ohio, native said. "I got some help from the wind, so I could challenge them."

After the seventh, when Amos Otis singled in Lou Piniella, Drago said, "I started popping the pill like I was doing early.

"I didn't quit throwing breaking stuff, but I was going to make them hit the hard stuff," he said. "When you get a run it makes you tougher; you get stronger."

Drago got off to a shaky start. Horace Clark led off the game with a single and Johnny Callison drew a walk, the first Drago had issued in 32 innings. The fire died down when Bobby Murcer and Roy White flied out and Ron Blomberg struck out.

"I was loose in the first," Drago said. "I wasn't worried. I've gone out there too many times in trouble early.

"You just have to get out of it the best way you can. There's a lot of time left, so why worry."

Ali-Patterson Clash Slated for August 28

NEW YORK (UPI) — The rumors circulating around that had Muhammad Ali fighting Floyd Patterson in a return match this summer in Madison Square Garden are true.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner is close to making the match with the Patterson camp having already agreed to an Aug. 28 date. However, a few details have to be worked out with Ali and his advisors before it's made official.

Word leaked from upstate New York that the fight was definitely on. Patterson, speaking at a dinner at the Pope Pious School for Boys near his home in New Paltz, N.Y. Saturday night announced that he would fight Ali again.

"I wasn't supposed to tell anyone about the fight," said the 37-year-old former two-time heavyweight champion, "but I'm going to fight Muhammad Ali in Madison Square Garden on Aug. 28. It was supposed to be announced after Ali's fight with Jerry Quarry later this month. If anyone calls and asks me, I'll deny I ever said it."

Patterson didn't have to deny it. The Garden people did it for him.

"We've been working on it," admitted Garden boxing publicist John Condon,-"but it's not made yet. We've got the Patterson camp but a few things have to be worked out with the Ali people. We're happy Floyd's talking as if the fight's made, but nothing is official as of right now."

The probability of the fight coming off is very, very good. It's an ideal match. Two fighters who have great crowd appeal. A full house would come and see if Floyd could avoid less of a beating than he took seven years ago.

The first time they met on Nov. 22, 1965, when Ali was champ, Patterson was humiliated and the title fight was stopped in the 12th round when Floyd, hunched over from the paralyzing pain of a slipped disc in his back, was unable to defend himself against the taunting Ali.

But Patterson, ignoring the signs of age that have creased his face and added flicks of grey in his hair, fights on. His latest decision over Oscar Bonavena, which raised his 20 year career record to 55-7-1. His trainer, Ernie Fowler, said he would have a tuneup fight before he meets Ali.

Muhammad has had two fights already this year—against Mac Foster and George Chuvalo—and he has two coming up. The first is a return with Jerry Quarry in Las Vegas on June 27 and then over to Dublin to fight Al "Blue" Lewis on July 19.

Ali's lost just once in 35 fights and that was to champion Joe Frazier in their 15-round war 15 months ago. He's fighting to stay in shape for Frazier and he's making a lot of money doing it.

A fight with Patterson shouldn't jeopardize Ali's chances of another title fight, or his bankroll.

White Winner In Marathon

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — A year ago, Max White finished second by a scant few inches in the Yonkers Marathon. On Sunday, the recent Princeton University graduate finished first—by 350 yards.

The 21-year-old, red-haired runner, among the leaders throughout the 26-mile, 385-yard run, won with a kick that kept him safely ahead of runner-up Joel Pasternack in the 37th running of the event on the main harness oval of Yankers Raceway.

White was clocked in 2 hours 29 minutes 42.8 seonds, about three minutes faster than Pasternack, a student at William Paterson College in Wayne, N.J.

WAITING FOR THE BOOTY—J.C. Snead waits quietly for his check and trophy for winning the Philadelphia Golf Classic Sunday at the Whitemarsh Country Club. Snead shot a 282 for 72 holes to beat out Chi Chi Rodriquez by one stroke. Both men bogied the final hole. (UPI)

J.C. Clipped His Old Boss

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—It just drips with irony.

How many guys who once were paid only $200 a month by their old boss get a chance to clip him for $13,000? And on a golf course yet!

And not only that, but J. C. Snead was perched right there at the 18th green of the suburban Whitemarsh Valley Country Club Sunday watching Chi Chi Rodriguez blow a chance to tie him and force a sudden death playoff in the $150,000 IVB Philadelphia Golf Classic.

Snead, who worked under Rodriguez as an assistant pro in the winter of 1967 at the Dorado Beach Country Club in Puerto Rico, shot an even-par 72 to capture the $30,000 first prize by one stroke over his former employer, who had to settle for second-place money of $17,000.

Snead, nephew of golfing great Sam Snead, set the stage for the final hole dramatics when, leading by a stroke, he bogeyed the 18th after burying his tee shot in the bunker off the fairway.

Rodriguez, the third-round leader, followed Snead's lead with a birdie on the 17th to stay on the heels of his opponent, who was playing in front of him, and hit his drive on the 18th right down the fairway. He now needed only to get home in the regulation par four to force the playoff.

But Rodriguez sent his second shot sailing over the green into gallery seats, chipped back and then missed a 10-foot putt, which slid to the right of the hole. He finished with a bogie five.

"Chi Chi gave me the tournament," Snead said later. "When I saw his putt roll past, it felt great. I sure didn't want a playoff."

Snead's 72-hole total of 282, six under par, was the highest winning figure in the 10-year history of the tourney as the pros had trouble with the 6,708-yard course the last two days because of gusts on Saturday and hardened fairways and greens on Sunday.

Rodriguez finished with a two-over par 74 for a 283 total.

Dick Rhyan, only one of eight pros in the final-day field of 73 to break par, had a two-under 70 to tie for third with Jim Jamieson at 285.

Dave Hill, also with a 70, was alone at 286 while Hubert Green, Homero Blancas and Bob Murphy were deadlocked at 287. At even-par 288 were Art Wall and Gay Brewer.

Kathy Romps With 293 Card

SUTTON, Mass. (UPI)—Kathy Ahern was getting "good distance" on her putts. All she had to do was straighten them out.

The 23-year-old green-eyed blonde from Phoenix, Ariz., almost changed putters Sunday but had second thoughts about it just moments before she stepped out on the course at Pleasant Valley Country Club for the final round of the $50,000 Eve LPGA Championship. Miss Ahern scrapped the idea and she's glad she did.

Using only 27 putts—an average of 1.5 per hole—Miss Ahern broke loose from the field with a hot-handed, four-under-par 69 to beat runnerup and gallery favorite Jane Blalock by six strokes and take home $7,500 in first prize money, "my biggest check since I've been on the tour."

Miss Blalock called Miss Ahern's round "fantastic," and added: "Any time you shoot a 69 on this golf course you've done something. She putted well, I didn't. I had several chances for birdies today that I didn't make."

Miss Ahern completed the four-day, 72-hole tournament with a 293, one over par, while Miss Blalock had a 299. Sharon Miller of Marshall, Mich., and Marlene Hagge of Eureka, S.D., were tied for third at 301 and Marilyn Smith and Clifford Ann Creed split fifth place money at 304.

Miss Whitworth, the leading all-time money winner on the women's tour, finished in a four-way tie for 12th place with a 307 while Miss Yamazaki had her worst round of the tournament, an 84, and fell to 16th place.

Miss Blalock won $5,400 with her second place finish and leads the tour this year with a total of $38,286, nearly $5,000 better than Miss Whitworth, the runnerup.

Miss Ahern raised her earnings to $24,407, sixth best among the women.

Braves Sweep Pair in Rookie League

NEWBURGH

The Kingston Braves should be in a happy mood for their Hudson Valley Rookie League opener against the Newburgh Atoms Thursday night at Dietz Stadium.

The Kingston nine got two three-hit performances from Ray Zappone and Tom Gallo Sunday at Recreation Field to sweep a doubleheader from the Newburg Nuclears, 8-3, and New Windsor Rockets, 4-3.

Joe Schabot, who didn't play during the 1971 season, returned to the Braves with a bang. Schabot collected four hits in seven trips, including a three-run homer and triple and knocked in five runs in the two games.

Zappone fanned 17 and helped himself with a pair of doubles and an RBI against the Nuclears. Schabot knocked in four runs. Gallo struck out six and didn't allow an earned run in the nightcap.

Player-Manager Gary Dross used no less than 15 players in the two games, indicating that the Braves have depth in every department except pitching.

The Braves scored three runs in each of the first two innings against the Nuclears' veteran John Fescoe to take a 6-0 lead.

With two outs in the first inning, Schabot tripled and scored on Greg Rios' single. Dross singled, Skip Lyons walked and Mike Patrick singled for two more runs.

Schabot unloaded his three-run homer in the third inning after successive walks to John Carter and Dave Horton. The Braves added two insurance runs in the last inning.

The Nuclears made their biggest noise when they scored three of their four runs in the third inning and added another in the fourth.

None of the Rockets' runs off Gallo in the nightcap were earned.

The Braves went ahead of the Rockets 3-2 in the third inning on singles by Carter and Jerry Hawkins, a base on balls to Rios, a wild pitch and Schabot's sacrifice fly.

In the fourth Lyons singled, stole second and scored on Mike Patrick's double to make it 4-2. Lyons and Carter each had two hits in the game.

Dale Long, former major league player, will conduct a clinic for area junior baseball leagues prior to Thursday's opener at 5:30 at Dietz Stadium. The league game gets under way at 8 p. m.

Jack Turk will sponsor the Babe Ruth Senior and regular leagues for the clinic. Art Altheiser, well known Kingston baseball and basketball personality, will sponsor the Kingston Jaycee Little League.

Other sponsorships were announced previously.

Long, who holds the major league record for hitting home runs in eight consecutive games, will participate in the pre-game ceremonies.

POLYSTEEL
CUSTOM POWER CUSHION TIRE

Steel belted tires so tough Goodyear backs them with a 40,000 mile tread life expectancy policy

GOODYEAR
40,000 Mile Tread Life Expectancy Policy

With proper care and normal driving, you will get at least 40,000 miles of tread wear from new, first-class Custom Power Cushion Polysteel tires on your car.

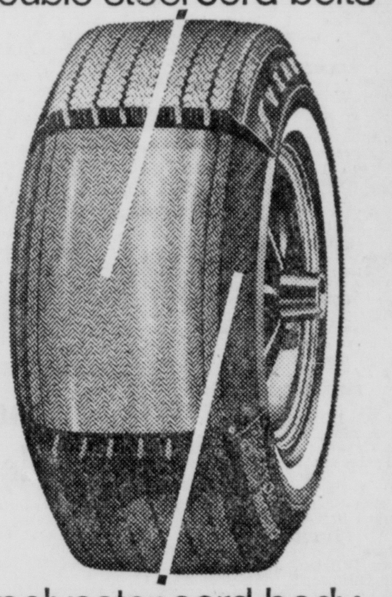

If you don't get 40,000 miles – and provided you were the original buyer of the tires and they are still on the original car – bring the tires and the policy booklet (with recorded mileage readings) to any Goodyear Service Store or Dealer in the United States or Canada. They will give you credit for mileage not received on the purchase of new Custom Power Cushion Polysteel tires, based on Goodyear's "Pre-determined Price for Adjustment".

A small service charge may be added.

Copies of this policy are available at all Goodyear locations.

double steel cord belts

Goodyear builds it with two belts of steel cord for long-lasting resistance to impact and penetration. (You wouldn't run over steel cleavers the way we did here– but the demonstration illustrates how tough the steel belts really are.) Then Goodyear makes the long mileage easy to take, with a flexible polyester cord body to seal up the shocks.

Tragedy Mars LeMans Race

ONE-TWO FINSH — Frenchman Henri Pescarola and Briton Graham Hill, driving No. 15, lead Matra-Simca to a 1-2 victory Sunday in the 40th running of the Le Mans 24-hours sports car endurance race, the first French sweep of the event in 22 years. Frenchman Francois Cevert and New Zealander Howden Ganley finished second in a similar V12 machine (No. 14). Although the two French autos crossed the line together, the Pescarola-Hill team had covered about 10 more laps. (UPI)

Joachim Bonnier of Sweden sped to his death at 3:15 a.m. EDT Sunday in a spectacular, grisly, disintegrating wreck that scarred and made memorable the French Matras-dominated 40th running of the 24 Hours of Le Mans.

Bonnier, 42, was killed shortly after a cold and misty dawn broke over the rain-pelted course. His Lola T280 was whirling at 180 miles per hour between the Mulsanne and Arnage curves when it struck the back of a slower Ferrari driven by Swiss Florian Vetsch.

The Lola was lifted 15 feet into the air and plowed like a doomsday missile into the pine woods beyond the safety barrier.

The vehicle flew into a thousand fragments and Bonnier—driving in the Le Mans classic for the 13th time—died instantly.

Frenchman Henri Pescarolo and Britain's Graham Hill co-drove their Matra-Simca a distance of 2,914.1 miles at an average speed of 121.1 mph to secure the first French victory at Le Mans since 1950.

It was the first major triumph for Pescarolo, 29, and the dashing Hill's first Le Mans win in 10 tries.

A Matra-Simca guided by Francois Cevert of France and Howden Ganley of New Zealand finished second.

The Matra's domination of the endurance test, while delighting a majority of the estimated throng of 300,000 people, was not unexpected in the wake of the Ferrari team's withdrawal. Ferrari has already clinched the World Manufacturers championship.

In other events Sunday, Denis Hulme of New Zealand fought off a late challenge by Indianapolis "500" winner Mark Donohue to win the $75,000 opening event of the Sports Car Club of America's Canadian-American Callenge Cup series at Bowmanville, Ontario; Emerson Fittipaldi of Brazil, winner of the Belgian GP last week, captured the Jochen Rindt Memorial race for Formula Two cars in the cold and rain at Hockenheim, Germany; and David Pearson registered his third superspeedway win of the season with a 19-second victory in the Motor State 400 for NASCAR Grand National stocks at Cambridge Junction, Mich.

The National Hot Rod Association conducted a national championship in Ohio for the first time Sunday. The $200,000 Springnationals produced the following results:

Chip Woodall of Hurst, Tex., captured his initial NHRA national title in the Top Fuel Eliminator category with a time of 6.81 seconds; Ed McCulloch of Clovis, Calif., added to his Winternationals and Gatornationals titles with a victory in the Funny Car Class; Bill "Grumpy" Jenkins of Malvern, Pa., turned in a 9.67 run to seize the Pro Stock crown and Wayne McMurtry of Pueblo, Colo., took Competition Eliminator honors.

Also, Joe Williamson of Lousiville, Ky., established an NHRA class record of 9.64 seconds enroute to the Modified Eliminator title in his E-Gas '23 Model T roadster powered by a six-cylinder Chevrolet engine. Bobby Warren of Clinton, N.C., won the Superstock Eliminator category with another class-record run of 11.72.

Cabell Places Sixth In Record KHS Time

GREENVALE, L.I. With his best time ever in his final two-mile race of the season, Kingston High's John Cabell was nosed out of fifth place by .8 seconds at the C.W. Post College track here Saturday at the New York State Intersectional Track and Field Championships.

Cabell's 9:33.6 time was a new Kingston High school record, and topped all Section I efforts in the event.

First place and a new state record went to Nyack's Dave Billings. The senior from Section IX ran away with the race hitting the wire in 9:12 flat.

Seeded twelfth among the state's two-milers before the event, Cabell ran with the ranked section in the afternoon while the unseeded competitors drew a morning start. The Maroon crossed the wire fifth in the heat, ahead of six higher seeds including the defending state and Section I champ Kevin McLee of White Plains. McLee had previously defeated Cabell in the sectional qualifying meet.

An attempt by race officials to award Cabell the fifth place medal drew a protest from Section VIII's Central Islip contingent, and a check of the results showed CI's Robert Feller, winner of the morning heat, clocked in 9:32.8. Feller was unseeded for the event.

The list of finishers behind Billing's record effort showed Molinski of CBA, Syrcuse, (Sect. III) second at 9:24.8; Brian Tolvanen, Port Jefferson Station, (Sect. XI) 9:27.6; and Paul Strummer, Penfield, (Sect. V) 9:28.3.

When the '73 meet rolls around, Kingston coach Dean Short feels his star may well find himself in the favorite's role. "I think he has a sub-nine minute potential," Short commented, "and he has a tremendous desire to improve himself every time."

"I think everyone who finished ahead of John is a senior, and next year he has a real shot at the state record," he concluded.

It was a cool, blustery day at the C. W. Post circuit, and gusty winds buffeted the afternoon competitors. While the morning runners escaped the breezes, it made the afternoon times particularly Billing's record-setting mark, more outstanding.

Another local distance man, Phil Hand of Red Hook, also hit a personal best. Hand, runing in the Class B competition, failed to place in the top five but turned in a 9:40 effort.

Barlow Has Net 134 To Lead in Waterous

Paul Barlow, a 10-handicap player fired a net 134 to win first place in the 36-hole Waterous Memorial Tournament at Woodstock Country Club. The tournament is played in memory of the former club president, benefactor and champion.

Barlow netted 69 in the opening round with 79-10 and followed with a 75-10-65 the second day for his 134. He carded a one-under-par 34 on his fourth trip around the village links.

Lembert (Bert) Dean was runnerup, four strokes off the pace, with a 36-hole 160-22-138. Tied with net 141s were Dick Hajec, 163-22, and Ray Morse, golf chairman with 173-32.

Anthony J. (Tony) Pizzarelli was all alone at 162-20-142 and Dick Bradley completed the prize list with 173-30-143, a total Bob Cantine matched with his 171-38.

Ray DuBois (168-24) and Jack Lee (168-24) tied with 144s.

John Buoymaster won first low gross prize with 72 78-150. Jo Modica posted 76-82-158 and Vlad Hoyt had 79-80-159.

Hydroplane Race

OWENSBORO, Ky. (UPI)—Atlas Van Lines, driven by Bill Muncey at a record average speed of 106.523 miles per hour, beat Pay-N-Pak Sunday in a championship heat of the $95,000 Governor's Cup race for unlimited hydroplanes.

Trades Made

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The Cleveland Indians Sunday traded utility infielder Fred Stanley to the San Diego Padres for lefthanded pitcher Mike Kilkenny.

The Padres also dealt away catcher Bob Barton to the Cincinnati Reds in exchange for catcher Pat Corrales in a separate trade.

Freak Mishap in Paddock Almost KO'd Riva Ridge

NEW YORK (UPI)—Riva Ridge ignored an injured leg as he rested at Belmont Park today just as he did Saturday in winning the Belmont Stakes.

The Kentucky Derby winner, who finished fourth in the Preakness Stakes, kicked himself in the left hind leg in the paddock before the Belmont, took several faltering steps and then recovered his gait just as trainer Lucien Laurin was ready to scratch him.

The horses were already saddled and jockey Ron Turcotte was astride Riva Ridge when the accident occurred. Laurin's face turned white as the colt staggered momentarily.

"He kicked himself real hard and took four or five limping steps. I thought his leg was broken. I turned to Mrs. Tweedy (the owner) and said 'I'm gonna scratch him'. There were tears in her eyes for she knew I meant it," the trainer said.

But Riva Ridge was permitted to start when he regained his stride and came though with a brilliant seven-length victory to take two-thirds of the Triple Crown.

To Laurin's relief Riva Ridge ignored the injury during the race.

"Isn't he something when he runs. He just reaches out and covers a lot of ground while the others are just chopping along," Laurin said proudly of Riva Ridge.

"That's because he is so long and has such long legs," said Turcotte, who rode Riva Ridge over the 1 1-2 miles in 2:28 flat, the third fastest clocking in the history of the Belmont Stakes.

"I heard a crack when he kicked himself but I didn't think it was as bad as it was," Turcotte said as he and Laurin watched Riva Ridge walk Sunday morning outside his barn.

"Look at that leg. See the cut and see how much the leg has filled (swelled up)," Turcotte added.

There was no sign of a limp, however, as Riva Ridge disregarded the injury in the walking ring just as he had ignored it in winning the Belmont Stakes.

That victory raised Riva Ridge's lefetime earnings to $802,245 and had Laurin wondering if the colt would be the first horse to win $2 million. Kelso retired with $1,977,896 to his credit to lead the list of the world's leading money winners.

But just where and when Riva Ridge gets a chance to add to his bankroll remained indefinite.

"The presure is off now and Riva Ridge will get a little vacation. I think he has earned it, don't you?" the trainer asked.

He intends to nominate Riva Ridge to the $100,000 Hollywood Derby to be run on July 1 and to the $100,000 Travers Stakes to be run at Saratoga on Aug. 21. And he expected Riva Ridge to be invited to the $100,000 Monmouth Invitational Handicap to be run on Aug. 7.

Laurin also plans to take a brief vacation but first he will start Upper Case next Saturday in the $100,000 Ohio Derby at Thistledown. He sent that colt six furlongs in 1:12 2-5 Sunday in preparation for the race.

"Then its five days of fishing," he said.

Ruritania was second in the Belmont Stakes and Cloudy Dawn, another longshot, was third. The testing distance of the race, so easily handled by Riva Ridge despite his cut leg, proved too much for the others as Key to the Mint finished fourth, followed by Big Spruce, No Le Hace, Freetex, Smiling Jack, Zulu Tom and Prince Farquier.

Rondout National Tossers American LL's Champions

KINGSTON Rondout National Bank defeated Montgomery Ward 6-2 behind the 3-hit pitching of Vince Dingman to win the first half pennant in the American Little League with a 6-2 record.

The teams were tied with 5 wins and 2 losses going into the game. It was Rondout's sixth straight victory after two opening losses. Dingman walked six and fanned nine.

Vince Ferraro led Rondout with a single and double and Vince Dingman stroked two singles. Dan Curlin and Bud Scheffel knocked in two runs each.

Tillson Post Sets Ceremony

Rosendale-Tillson Post 1219 American Legion will hold its sixth annual ceremony for disposal of unserviceable American Flags Wednesday, June 14, at 7:30 p.m.

Also included in the ceremony will be presentation of two American Legion medals to local children for an essay contest. The boy chosen to represent the post at Empire Boys State will be introduced also.

Anyone having a worn out American Flag may bring it to the post prior to June 14 or bring them that night to the ceremony for legal disposition of the flag. More than 200 persons attended the ceremony last year.

City Jaycees Set VD Program

GLASCO

Venereal disease will be the topic of a program Tuesday at the Glasco Fire Company Auxiliary meeting, sponsored by the Kingston Jaycees.

David Favor, chairman of the Jaycees' Operation Venus, will moderate the program. A film depicting problems caused by the spread of venereal disease will be shown.

Local information and statistics will also be included.

Mrs. Geraldine Spada, vice-president of the Auxiliary, is coordinating details for the program.

The program will begin at 9 p.m.

Your Horoscope

Tuesday, June 13

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Now you are able to control your thoughts and go along with others. You can benefit from a new course of action whereby you can arrive at a meeting of minds whether it be in relation to finances or other important material interests.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have to visualize more abundance and then you can make plans that will bring added influence. Consult an expert in financial matters for the advice you need.

TAURUS (Apri. 20 to May 20) Clear up personal problems by concentrating on all contributing factors. Listen to what successful persons have to suggest. Think logically. Show that you have wisdom.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Not a good day for outside activities but fine for office or home duties. Prepare now for more success in the future. Follow your hunches which are accurate right now.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) A good day for gaining your career aims and adding to present prestige. Good friends can be helpful in solving a problem you have. Confide in them. Relax tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) It's the right time to be with higher-ups and gaining their support for your particular aims. If you handle a civic matter well you will benefit. Show your fine ability.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have new ideas that should be talked over with experts before you put them in operation or you could get into trouble. You are highly inspired and can get much done.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have excellent ideas now which can help you get ahead if you do something constructive about them now. Listen to the advice of experts and become highly inspired.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Talk over a new idea with an associate who can assist you to make it a successful venture. Make it a fine mutual undertaking. Strive for the goodwill of those important to you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you study the major joints of an important plan you will know exactly what to expect. Take the time to improve your appearance. Put your best foot forward.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you put your creative talents to work early, you can make this a most delightful day. Show that you are an enthusiastic person. Showing more affection to mate is wise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Use diplomacy when dealing with kin at home or you could get into trouble with them. Show kindness instead of criticism. Find right methods for gaining your aims.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have right system now for handling regular routines. You will accomplish much more if you do your shopping early. Keep active and you will get as much done as before.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those determined young people who can finish whatever is once started, therefore will be able to make a success of life earlier than most. There is a practical bent to the nature that is fine for whatever has to do with finances, and would do well in such fields as property sales, purchases, insurance, banking and law.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Bridge

'Eight Ever, Nine Never'

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Jim: "How about some articles on odds in favor or against various plays. After all, you are the top bridge mathematician."

Oswald: "Let's start with a very common example. You happen to be in six hearts, but the principle is the same at any level. You want to give yourself the best chance to pick up the queen of hearts."

Jim: "There is an old bridge rhyme, 'eight ever, nine never,' which means that you should finesse for the queen when you have eight and play for a drop when you have nine. Actually, the play with nine is close enough so that if you have information from the bidding that indicates uneven distribution in the enemy hands you may play for a 3-1 break and take a second round finesse with nine."

Oswald: "Today there is no indication of uneven breaks. The opponents have not bid and the lead gives little information."

Jim: "It also doesn't matter if South plays the king of hearts or a small heart to start with. Both opponents follow and he plays high on the second round and picks up the queen."

Oswald: "There is a superstition that if you have singletons you should play for a 3-1 break. I say superstition because that is all it is. We will explain this further in tomorrow's article."

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

"RIGHT": (Q.) A couple of years ago I went with a boy I liked very much. I've gone with several guys since then. I liked some of them very much.

But none has been quite so special to me as this one in particular. He's come closest to being the "right" person for me. Even now I still feel strongly for him in my heart.

We date every now and then, and we give each other gifts at Christmas and on birthdays. I don't want him to know how I feel about him, because the way we have things now is on a friendship basis, and I'm not the agressive type.

My problem is distinguishing love from infatuation. Can you give me some guidance?—17 in Texas.

(A.) What you describe and the almost poetic way you describe it sounds very much like love.

But continue to be very careful. He may not feel the same way you do. If he did, I do not believe he would be content to date you just "every now and then."

DEPOSIT: (Q.) I am five nine and weigh 135. Two years ago, when I was 13, I all of a sudden got fat. Before that I had always been skinny. Now I have lost most of the fat, but it still shows in my hindquarters. Can I lose the fat there by dieting or weight lifting?—Big in Alabama.

(A.) Your weght is very good for a boy your height and age. You can lose more, and possibly slice off some more of that rear slab, by a combination of diet and exercising.

I am sending you a set of exercises designed to firm down hips and buttocks. But I must warn you that your bone structure may be such that your rear end will continue to be prominent, even though you lose weight there. If that is so, proper selection and fitting of clothes is your answer.

If you wish to lift weights, fine. But do it under the instruction of a counselor at the "Y" or your gym teacher at school. Don't overdo it.

Sports, Music Top Weekend

NEW YORK (AP) — Sports fans and music lovers got most of the programming breaks over the weekend on television.

There was baseball, golf and horse racing, among other sports. And there was Sunday night's remarkable "Portrait of Stravinsky" on the public broadcasting stations for another crowd.

The hour program was filmed six and seven years ago when the composer, who died last year, was 83 and 84. It was done in cinema verite style, most of the time with the people involved seemingly unaware of camera. And seemed to have been handled casually. In some segments the composer was talking in his Beverly Hills home about everything from the Picasso caricature of himself as a younger man to a long anecdote about Jean Cocteau's three attempts to write a libretto for Stravinsky's music. He spoke of music with the enthusiasm of a boy. In another he was working with Pierre Boulez correcting an error Boulez had found in one piece of printed music.

A wise, amused old man, Igor Stravinsky was seen rehearsing an orchestra, discussing a ballet, answering questions of an interviewer.

Often the lighting was poor, the sound was fuzzy and, most difficult, the conversation whipped among English, French and German, with only occasionally a translation. Out of this somehow came a portrait of a fascinating man. It is an invaluable record.

Also of interest to the musically minded was a feature on Andre Previn and his actress-wife, Mia Farrow, on CBS' "60 Minutes." Previn is a former jazz pianist, and composer of Hollywood film scores who recently was given another four-year contract with the London Symphony Orchestra.

There were some interesting shots of Previn, his wife and their twins at their country home outside London. Previn blamed the television series, "Peyton Place"——"a piece of unspeakable nonsense — "for making it so difficult for him and his wife to achieve a private life because in three years on the series, Mia had become so well known.

Most interesting portion, however, showed Previn in slacks and sneakers conducting a rehearsal of the shirt-sleeved orchestra.

"It never fails to surprise me that I lift a baton—and they play," he said.

Senate Begins Debate On Military Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate begins debate today on a $1.7 billion foreign military aid bill cutting off funds for U.S. troops in Vietnam after Aug. 31.

Prolonged deliberation is anticipated. A similar end-the-war issue, ultimately withdrawn, delayed Senate passage of the State Department authorization bill for a month earlier this year.

The end-the-war amendment, initiated in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee by Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., would require unconditional withdrawal of ground troops from Vietnam Aug. 31 and conditional termination of all U.S. air and naval operations in and over all of Indochina.

Funds to support U.S. participation in Indochina hostilities would be prohibited upon reaching a cease-fire agreement between the United States and the North Vietnamese, release of U.S. war prisoners, and an accounting by North Vietnam for Americans missing in action.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, is expected to lead opposition to the Mansfield amendment, as he did last month to the end-the-war rider to the State Department bill.

Stennis told the Senate a month ago that with the North Vietnamese engaged in a powerful new offensive "it is time to buckle down and stand firm."

"The American people want an end to the war," he said, "but they don't want to be driven out."

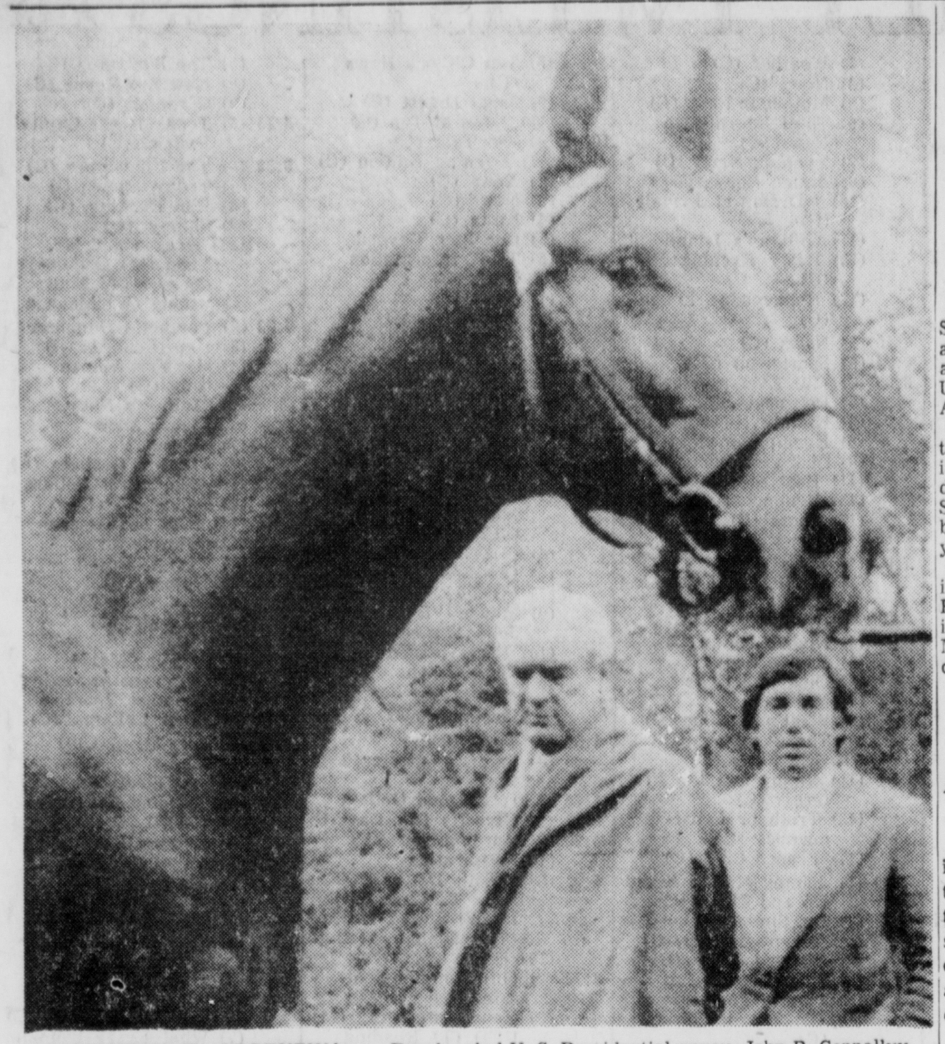

The bill would authorize $1.65 billion for foreign security assistance, a cut from administration requests totaling $2.151 billiin.

The Foreign Relations Committee reduced administration requests for military assistance grants from $780 million to $600 million, foreign military credit sales from $527 million to $400 million, and security supporting assistance from $844 million to $650 million.

The bill would set a $250 million limit on U.S. expenditures in or on behalf of Cambodia, and require specific authorization of Congress for financing of foreign forces of operating in Laos, Thailand or North Vietnam.

Countries receiving grant military aid or surplus equipment from the United States would be required to pay 25 per cent of the value in their own currencies to meet U.S. obligations in the country and to finance educational and cultural exchange programs.

The administration had asked that the 10 per cent contribution requirement imposed by Congress last year be removed entirely, on the grounds that many countries could not afford it.

Firing of AF General Being Probed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House investigators called witnesses today to a special probe into the firing of an Air Force four-star general for reportedly ordering unauthorized bombing attacks over North Vietnam earlier this year.

An investigating subcommittee of the House Armed Services Committee called the hearing into the case of Lt. Gen. (Ret.) John D. Lavelle, 55, a native of Cleveland.

Lavelle commanded the 7th Air Force in Southeast Asia until March when he was abruptly relieved, brought home and retired. A full general at the time of his dismissal, Lavelle was retired at three-star rank. It was believed the first time in modern U.S. military history that a four-star officer had been nominated to retire at a lower rank.

Lavelle has declined to discuss the case with reporters, but he was called as a witness today. The subcommittee also scheduled as a witness Gen. John D. Ryan, the Air Force chief of staff, who ordered Lavelle's recall from his Saigon headquarters.

The New York Times reported Sunday that Lavelle ordered "repeated and unauthorized" bombing attacks of military targets in North Vietnam during a three-month period starting in January.

The newspaper quoted military and congressional sources that Lavelle reported the raids to his superiors as officially sanctioned "protective reaction" strikes.

Bombing missions during the period—which preceded the current North Vietnamese offensive—were concentrated in the southernmost Panhandle region of North Vietnam and struck at targest that included airfields, radar sites, missile sites and antiaircraft batteries, the Times said.

The newspaper quoted one high-ranking military source as saying Lavelle received no written orders authorizing the missions but believed it "was implied in the instructions that were given him."

Humphrey in Stretch Run, Cites McGovern's 'New Life'

WAVERLY, Minn. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey says Sen. George McGovern was close to pulling out of the White House race in advance of the Wisconsin presidential primary April 4.

"I know a lot about the background on this," Humphrey said in an interview. "We keep pretty good tabs on each other. He was almost ready to drop out in Wisconsin."

Humphrey, taking his first weekend off since early January, made the comment in connection with statements that he would continue his own drive for the Democratic presidential nomination despite some setbacks. He begins an intensive stretch run for convention delegates today with a trip to San Antonio for a meeting with Texas Democrats on the eve of their statewide party meeting.

McGovern won in Wisconsin, boosted by "a good Republican crossover," and got a "new life," Humphrey said. "And that compounded with the fact that (Sen. Edmund S.) Muskie was dropping out. . .the media attention and public attention dwelt on this so-called new face, even though George has been around a long time."

Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York who had been considered McGovern's chief rival for more liberal support also left the race after the Wisconsin presidential primary.

McGovern has since moved into position as the frontrunner for the Democratic nomination.

However, Humphrey insisted he had a chance to pull out the nomination in Miami Beach, Fla., next month on a late ballot.

Humphrey said he advised McGovern last weekend that "if I got out now, it would destroy any effectiveness" he might have in convincing governors and other Democratic leaders to support McGovern's candidacy later on.

Even if he fails to win the nomination, Humphrey said, "I'll still be a senator and have a good deal of freedom. It's not like 1968.

Humphrey said many Democrats, including some senators, "rightly or wrongly feel that he would cost them local seats, cost them legislative seats, cost them seats in Congress."

That concern now enhances his own chances for the nomination, Humphrey said, "and this is the reason I have a feeling of encouragement. A lot of people, once you get down to the convention, once you get away from the primaries, are going to make their judgment on the basis of which candidate will be better for them back in their home state.

"Let's say it doesn't look too favorable for any Democrat against Mr. Nixon. They'll ask 'Which one will cost us less?

"Now, in 1968, I didn't cost the party any losses, even though I lost."

Humphrey added, however, that he would not encourage the notion that McGovern would hurt the party, but would instead tell conservative Democrats in his upcoming travels that McGovern is more temperate than they might think.

At the governors conference in Houston last week, Humphrey said, "I think I even helped ease that for George. I told them that he's a decent man, he's no radical."

Social Security Increases . . . Legislation Must Be Drafted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee meets today to decide how to raise the money to pay for Social Security increases it approved for 27 million persons.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., said the decisions on the higher taxes needed to finance the benefits would wrap up the committee's work on the massive Social Security-welfare reform bill.

However, the committee's staff is expected to take an estimated two weeks to draft the legislation before it is ready for floor debate.

The panel last week voted to include a 10 per cent across-the-board boost in Social Security in the bill after rejecting a 20 per cent boost on a 7-7 tie vote.

But Long, who favored 20 per cent, said that 64 senators now support the higher percentage, and it is almost certain to be raised when the bill reaches the floor.

Chances appear good that a 20 per cent hike in benefits will be in the final bill sent to President Nixon since Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., who will head the House conferees, has urged that figure.

Nixon has recommended that Congress limit the hike to 5 per cent.

The Senate committee's version of the legislation calls for annual cost-of-living raises in payments if the price index advances 3 per cent a year.

Under present law, the maximum Social Security tax for a worker is $468.00, obtained by multiplying the 5.2 per cent rate times the $9,000 wage base.

This is scheduled to go up to $508.50 next year when the base will remain at $9,000 but the rate will advance to 5.65 per cent.

The amount paid by the worker is matched by his employer.

The pending bill, as it passed the House last year, would boost the top tax in 1973 to $550.80. It would do this by raising to $10,200 the amount of annual earnings subject to tax, although the rate would be increased only to 5.4 per cent instead of the 5.65 per cent provided by the present law.

Deaths of Viet Civilians Are Reported

NEW YORK (AP) — A Newsweek magazine correspondent reports a "staggering number" of Vietnamese civilians were killed by U.S. forces in a pacification program in 1968 that "made the My Lai massacre look trifling by comparison."

Kevin P. Buckley reported in this week's issue of Newsweek that one official estimated 5,000 civilians died in the six-month-long operation code-named "Speedy Express," which was carried out in the Mekong Delta.

12 Persons Are Killed As Pickup Truck Crashes

SHADY NOOK, La. (UPI)—A semitrailer truck Sunday knocked a pickup truck packed with children with such force that it compressed the pickup flat against a tree. Twelve persons were killed, 11 of them children.

The only survivors were two children and the driver of the tractor trailer truck.

"The pickup was compressed flat against a tree," said state Patrolman Robert Rigby. "I couldn't even see it at first."

The pickup was taking 13 children to the Shady Nook swimming hole and had slowed to turn onto a dirt road in the city limits of the rural central Louisiana town. The semitrailer, carrying a full load of wheat, rammed the rear of the smaller truck, hammering it into a large tree just off the highway.

"There were five people in the cab of the pickup. They were all crushed. Six others were in the rear of the truck, which was covered with grain from the trailer. They were all in their swimming trunks," Rigby said.

The other three children were thrown out of the rear of the pickup when the larger truck first struck.

A Million Recovered From Welfare Clients

NEW YORK (UPI)—A city official said Sunday more than $1 million had been recovered from welfare clients who cashed duplicate checks, concealed their assets or gave false statements to perpetrate their frauds.

Jule M. Sugarman, human resources administrator, said the bulk of the money—$909,500—was illegally obtained by clients who claimed their checks had been lost, stolen or never received but who then cashed the original and the replacement check.

Surgarman credited the fraud control unit of the department of Social Services set up last October "using new methods of investigation and surveillance" with tracking down the malefactors. The total amount recovered Sugarman said, was $1,151,000.
